Nixon vows to fight removal from office

Resignation seen possible

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's closest aide, White House Chief of Staff Alexander M. Haig Jr., held a private, hour-long meeting with Vice President Gerald R. Ford today as demands mounted for Nixon to resign.

The meeting in Ford's office was requested by Haig, said Ford's press secretary, Paul Miltich.

Miltich said the two men "exchanged views on the current situation" but refused to elaborate.

Earlier, White House sources acknowledged that a presidential resignation remains a possibility.

"Sure it is — all options are open," said one source.

Another agreed, saying that despite Nixon's vow to his cabinet Tuesday that he has no intention of resigning "the situation is fluid. We don't know what is going to happen."

The sources' comments in interviews reflected the clearly perceptible mood of uncertainty cloaking the corridors and cubby holes where the President's men work.

One after another, Nixon aides responded with a sigh or a shrug of their shoulders when asked what could or would happen next.

Some said they thought the wave of resignation and impeachment demands would subside. Others weren't too sure and privately were glum about the President's chances of clinging to the nation's highest office.

Presidential spokesmen did little to dispell the mood of uncertainty when they stopped short of ruling out a possible Nixon resignation.

Resignation demands mounted Tuesday, especially among congressional Republicans in the mushrooming reaction to Nixon's dual, damaging disclosures Monday that he tried two years ago to thwart a major phase of the FBI's Watergate investigation, and that he withheld this information from Congress and his own lawyer.

Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren skirted direct answers to reporters who pressed him repeatedly to say flatly that Nixon would not resign.

Finally, Warren said, "He does not intend to resign."

Rather, the spokesman said, Nixon intends to "see that the business of the people continues ... as we move through the constitutional process."

By constitutional process, Warren said he meant a Senate impeachment trial.

But he dodged questions on whether the "constitutional process" might include invoking the 25th Amendment, which sets procedures for a president to temporarily step aside if unable to carry out the duties of office.

Warren said that when Nixon met Sunday with his closest aides at Camp David, Md., there was no discussion of using the 25th Amendment to install Vice President Gerald R. Ford as acting chief executive until completion of a Senate trial.

But the spokesman confirmed what other White House sources disclosed Monday night — that Nixon again considered during the weekend whether to resign.

Impeachment seems certain

WASHINGTON (AP) — One by one they took their stand on the impeachment of President Nixon, and at the end of the day it was clear the vote in the House will be a mere formality.

From Minority Leader John J. Rhodes of Arizona to freshman Rep. Robert E. Bauman of Maryland, a number of House Republicans announced their support for impeachment, many of them calling for Nixon's resignation as well.

The list included all 10 Republicans on the House Judiciary Committee who had voted against the articles of impeachment that will be brought to the House floor Aug. 19.

Their statements, issued in response to Nixon's admission that he withheld evidence linking him to the Watergate coverup, left no doubt Tuesday that Nixon faces a Senate trial and possible removal from office if he does not resign.

And despite repeated statements from the White House that Nixon will not resign, the belief persists on Capitol Hill that it remains a possibility, especially if there is a heavy House vote for impeachment.

Rhodes said at a news conference he felt Nixon would resign whenever he felt he was unable to govern. Asked to evaluate Nixon's ability to govern now, Rhodes said, "I would say it has been sadly impaired."

The hopelessness of Nixon's situation in the House was underscored by Rhodes' response to a question as to whether there was anything the President could do to save himself.

"I suppose there might be, but right now I couldn't say. I'm at a loss to know," he said.

Rhodes did not deny at the news conference a comment by Rep. Charles E. Wiggins, R-Calif., that he had told Rhodes over the weekend the President would release new and damaging material on Monday. The Los Angeles Times reported in today's edition that Wiggins had been given a sneak preview Friday of the latest Nixon transcript at a meeting with Nixon aide Alexander M. Haig Jr. and the President's chief impeachment lawyer, James D. St. Clair.

Meanwhile, administration and congressional sources said the disclosures by Nixon had been

Judge Ratcliff excused

Union County judge to hear case here

Union County Common Pleas Court Judge Gwynn Sanders will preside at the contempt of court hearing slated at 1 p.m. Friday in Fayette County Common Pleas Court.

The contempt hearing, initiated by Fayette County Common Pleas Court Judge Evelyn W. Coffman against Ed Summers, a Record-Herald reporter, was originally scheduled to be heard by Judge J. Donald Ratcliff, of Ross County Common Pleas Court, but the judge asked to be excused from the hearing because of a heavy docket in Ross County.

Although another report indicated that the judge removed himself after determining the Washington C.H. newspaper is circulated in portions of Ross County, when contacted Wednesday, Judge Ratcliff said that he will be hearing two Ross County murder cases in the very near future and does not have as much time as he earlier had anticipated.

HE STATED that he was currently contacting the attorneys in the murder cases in an attempt to arrange trial dates and that he expected one of the trials to begin next week.

Summers is charged with contempt of court for his alleged violation of what Judge Coffman has termed "an expressed command" of the court. The young reporter filed with the Record-Herald a recap of the proceedings held in the Fayette County Common Pleas Court during the kidnapping and extortion trial of Jay D. Gordon which appeared in the newspaper the next day.

Summers contends that judge requested, but did not order, that he withhold parts of the proceedings from the general public. He said that he was compelled to ignore the judge's request because he felt that residents of this area had a right to be fully informed of that which takes place in a public courtroom.

Ticket sales for lottery open Friday

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Ohio lottery ticket sales will start three days earlier than previously announced, the lottery commission's executive director announced today.

"We're just jumping the gun on everything," a commission spokesman said.

The director, John Kirkland, said ticket sales will begin Friday instead of Aug. 12.

Kirkland said the lottery staff has completed delivery and mailing of the necessary material to over 10,000 ticket sales agents.

The ceremonial opening is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. Friday when Gov. John J. Gilligan buys the first ticket officially, he said.

But sales agents may pick up their tickets from their designated banks on the morning of Aug. 9 and begin sales immediately, he added.

A commission spokesman said no change was planned in advertising already scheduled which bears the Aug. 12 starting date.

Burns calls for creation of federal jobs program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Reserve Chairman Arthur F. Burns has urged creation of a public service jobs program involving up to 800,000 workers as a tool to curb rising unemployment.

Burns suggested Tuesday that the government hiring program be launched when unemployment hits 6 per cent. The jobless rate now is 5.3 per cent, but government and private economists expect it to jump to at least 6 per cent by year's end.

Burns estimated the cost of a new jobs program at $4 billion.

Testifying before the congressional Joint Economic Committee, Burns also called for tougher antitrust enforcement and a more powerful inflation-monitoring agency than the one proposed by President Nixon.

He told the committee there is no quick way to cool spiraling inflation and predicted it will take at least two years "for the kind of inflation we have been experiencing to unwind."

The stock market, which has been depressed for more than a year and a half, will not make a significant improvement until there is "confidence that corporate profits will improve and interest rates will decline," Burns added.

Asked if impeachment proceedings against Nixon have hampered economic policy planning, Burns said, "I think economic matters are being attended to in the White House." But he added, "I'd like to see more energetic activity, yes."

Burns said he doubted that an anti-inflation agency proposed by Nixon could be effective unless it was empowered to suspend wage or price increases it considers inflationary.

He proposed that the government panel be authorized to hold up inflationary wage or price increases for up to 45 days while conducting hearings and trying to negotiate a possible cutback.

GOP Senators eye resignation push

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top Senate Republicans are considering whether to send a delegation to President Nixon with word that a majority of GOP senators wants him to resign and that chances of conviction in an impeachment trial are growing.

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott told reporters late Tuesday afternoon the GOP leadership will meet again today "to discuss the desirability and means of conveying to the President" views expressed earlier in the day at a party luncheon.

After that luncheon, Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., told reporters "It is my guess that the majority sentiment among Republican senators is that he should retire from office."

The Texas Republican, chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, said that there was "great concern that the President does not perhaps comprehend the great hazard he faces in coming to trial in the Senate."

Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., former national GOP chairman, said today that "all but a handful of Republicans in the Senate would like to see resignation." He had been quoted Tuesday as saying that no more than 20 pro-Nixon votes could be counted on.

In an interview on the CBS "Morning News," Dole said that if an impeachment vote were taken in the Senate "as of today," Nixon would be removed from office.

Dole said he still had the feeling that Nixon was giving serious consideration to resignation, either under the 25th Amendment provisions allowing him to turn over power temporarily or outright resignation from office.

"Something is in the air, something big," he said. Other GOP sources said the majority favoring resignation was

New Zealand girl new AFS visitor

A 17-year-old New Zealand girl will be this year's American Field Service exchange student at Washington Senior High School.

Debbie Symmans, who lives near the city of Whakatane on New Zealand's north island, will be making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Roger Miller, and daughter, Denise, at 201 River Road.

Debbie, who arrived in Washington C.H. last Thursday, was somewhat surprised with Washington C.H. She said she had expected to see a large bustling city with tall buildings. "It is much different than what I expected," she commented. "There's a lot more trees here than I thought."

She also said the area was flatter than her native New Zealand where she lives with her parents and three younger brothers on a large dairy farm.

Her family milks 210 head of dairy cattle in a modern herringbone dairy setup.

Debbie, who will be a senior, said the school system in New Zealand is much different than that of the United States. "We go to school almost the whole year," she said. The New Zealand schools have a two week break in May, a three week break in mid-August and then a seven-week vacation beginning in December.

Since New Zealand is in the southern hemisphere its seasons are just the opposite of here, that is, December is considered a mid-summer month.

Coming from a mild climate, Debbie said she had only seen snow one time, but she hopes to see a lot this winter.

She is the sixteenth AFS student to attend Washington Senior high school since the program began here in 1959.

Panel clears Kissinger

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger has withdrawn his threat to resign after receiving vindication from the Senate Foreign Relations Committee over a wiretap controversy.

The committee found no fault with his account of his role in the wiretapping of newsmen and government officials.

But in a report issued Tuesday, the committee did not endorse the wiretapping, which was aimed at stopping the leaking of classified information to reporters. In fact, Chairman J. W. Fulbright said he opposes the practice and thinks the committee does, too.

The committee's investigation, begun June 10 at Kissinger's request, concluded there was nothing shown to bar his service as secretary of state.

Kissinger, who had said he would quit if not cleared in the wiretapping matter, withdrew his threat after the results of the committee investigation were announced. "Given the content of the report the secretary no longer sees any reason for resignation," a spokesman said.

The secretary issued his resignation threat after newspaper stories, apparently based on FBI files, indicated Kissinger had ordered the wiretaps in 1969 and 1970.

During his confirmation hearings before the committee last September, Kissinger had testified:

"I did not initiate the program, I did not recommend the program, and I had nothing to do with its establishment. I then participated in the program, once it was established, according to criteria that had been laid down in the President's office."

Appearing to be in conflict with that story were three memos, submitted to the House Judiciary Committee for its impeachment investigation, in which the late FBI director J. Edgar Hoover cited Kissinger as the authority for instituting wiretaps.

The Fulbright committee conceded the discrepancies and said it probably will never be possible, because of the deaths and loss of memory and records to determine exactly what took place.

South Lebanon attacked by Israeli jet raiders

By The Associated Press
Israel's military command said jets of the Israeli Air Force blasted targets in southern Lebanon early today. The raid followed a mortar and artillery duel along the frontier between troops of the two countries.

Each side blamed the other for the gunnery battle, which lasted almost an hour.

The air strike was Israel's second in two weeks into the area of southern Lebanon known in Israel as Fatahland, which is controlled by Palestinian guerrillas.

A spokesman for the military said the jets blasted suspected terrorist outposts for about five minutes, beginning about 1 a.m. He said all the planes returned safely after blasting targets near Hareba Junction, just across the Lebanon border.

There was no mention of casualties. The last Israeli raid was into Lebanon was on July 23. Israeli leaders have said they will continue to strike Arab guerrillas without provocation.

There was no reaction from Lebanon to the Israeli air strike.

Lebanon's Defense Ministry had accused the Israelis of precipitating the Tuesday afternoon battle on the border by sending halftracks into the village of Majidieh under cover of artillery fire.

The Israeli command said armed infiltrators from Lebanon crossed into Israel and kidnapped four Arab laborers from a border security force. It indicated that Israeli troops then crossed into Lebanon to rescue the workers but succeeded only in seizing six suspects.

Bell strikers complain of union action

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Telephone installers, repairmen and other workers taking part in a wildcat walkout against the Bell system complained Tuesday that they "were sold down the river by the international union."

Employees on picket lines forming at Ohio Bell installations charged that negotiators for the Communications Workers of America surrendered on money issues to win company approval of a closed-shop contract.

One union member complained that after workers rejected management's offer of a 10 per cent pay raise, negotiators at the national contract talks settled for a 10.7 per cent hike for those in the highest income brackets.

A tentative national labor agreement was reached in Washington, D.C., Sunday night, just two hours before a planned nationwide strike by 750,000 telephone workers.

More talks were scheduled today on local issues, an Ohio Bell spokesman said. Voting on the national and local agreements was to be completed by Sept. 1.

In Cleveland, where about 1,300 workers were reported off the job, an employee spokesman said disgruntled workers would meet in a park on Lake Erie to talk over their objections to the proposed national pact. About 300 workers met there Tuesday.

Union leaders here continued to insist only a small number of dissatisfied employees were involved in the walkout.

House slices aid to South Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has voted a $300 million cut in U.S. military aid for South Vietnam, in what proponents called notice for the Thieu regime to negotiate a political settlement with Hanoi and the Viet Cong.

The cut to a post-Vietnam war low of $700 million in U.S. military aid was made in a $83.4 billion defense appropriation bill approved by the House 350 to 43 on Tuesday and sent to the Senate.

The House voted down $5.8 million in initial funds for a new binary nerve gas weapon criticized as too costly and a possible threat to international chemical warfare control.

An effort to cut the defense bill $2.5 billion across the board was rejected. So was one to write off the 10-year-old, $5 billion Safeguard antimissile system as a failure.

The $300 million cut in U.S. military aid to South Vietnam was approved 233 to 157 over opponents' contention the cut would be interpreted by Hanoi as a weakening, if not abandonment, of U.S. support of South Vietnam.

But the cuts' co-sponsors, Reps. John J. Flynt, D-Ga., and Robert N. Giaimo,

Mobile home buyer's guide is unveiled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Department of Commerce, citing what it called a lack of standards in the mobile home industry, today unveiled its "Mobile Home Buyer's Guide" for consumers.

The 16-page booklet, made public at a news conference by Commerce Director Dennis Shaul, tells prospective customers what to look for when buying a mobile home.

Shaul said the Ohio Mobile Home and Recreational Vehicle Association had threatened a lawsuit to stop distribution of the booklet. He said the booklet was an attempt to advise consumers of pitfalls in mobile home buying.

The booklet attacks what it calls the myths of mobile home living. Among those it lists:

—That a mobile home is almost maintenance free.

—Living in a mobile home costs less per month than living in an apartment.

—A mobile home costs less than conventional homes because labor costs are reduced through factory assembly.

The booklet claims a mobile home requires "slightly less maintenance" than a conventional home only because it is smaller. They also require, it claims, attention not required of conventional homes.

Costs of renting a space to park a mobile home, plus monthly payments on the home and utilities, may make total costs per month more than an apartment, it said.

Motor homes factories, it contends, are not as automated as automobile factories and the cost savings factor compared to on-site home construction is not as great as manufacturers claim.

"We've had a high number of complaints about the industry," Shaul said. "It has failed to develop proper standards in a variety of areas. The evidence indicates the industry standards are not keeping pace with the volume of growth they have."

90 nurses on strike

DOVER, Ohio (AP) — A strike by registered nurses entered its fifth week here despite negotiations with the help of a federal mediator.

About 90 nurses walked off their jobs July 8 at Dover Union Hospital, demanding better fringe benefits and increased hospital staffs.

The strike has left the hospital, one of two in Tuscarawas County, staffed by a few registered nurses who are not members of the Ohio Nurses Association, licensed practical nurses and supervisory personnel.

Many of the hospital's patients have been sent to other facilities since the strike started.

A lengthy bargaining session Tuesday with federal mediator Chris Siesky reportedly yielded no progress.

D-Conn., said it was needed to put pressure on South Vietnam President Nguyen Van Thieu to stop trying to fight the North Vietnamese and to work out the political settlement they said was directed by the 1972 Vietnam cease-fire.

Rep. Robert L.F. Dikes, D-Fla., read a letter from Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger saying such a cut would undermine South Vietnam's ability to defend itself against the North.

Turks stage new attacks on Cyprus

VASSILIA, Cyprus (AP) — Greek Cypriot troops pulled back without firing a shot and dragging their wounded with them today, as Turkish infantrymen launched fresh attacks behind a continuing artillery barrage along the northern Cyprus coast.

"Our Greek officers told us not to fight back," said a tall, unshaven national guardsman, as he stood with Western newsmen and watched shellfire bursting amidst the hotels and vacation homes of Vassilia, 12 miles west of the Turkish enclave of Kyrenia.

The attacks were a continuation of Turkish onslaughts that began 24 hours earlier against the two nearby major population centers of Lapithos and Karavas.

The Turkish attacks had not only overrun Karavas and Lapithos, but spilled over to Vassilia three miles further west.

A Greek Cypriot officer told Western reporters that a team of 58 Greek engineers sent into Lapithos Tuesday to mine the road had been trapped in the Turkish advance.

"Two of my men swam two miles along the coast to Vassilia today," he said. "They told us the rest of the team had been exterminated."

Another English-speaking Greek Cypriot told reporters gathered at the nearest U.N. peace force observation post that he had seen 30 of his comrades' bodies the previous day in the Lapithos fighting. "And many more were wounded," he said.

British troops with the United Nations peacekeeping force rushed into Lapithos trying to halt the fighting, but they were driven back by heavy mortar fire and were ordered out by Greek Cypriot officers.

Greek Cypriot national guardsmen were seen retreating across the sun-baked hills toward Myrtou to the the southwest.

By noon, a U.N. sergeant said: "That whole area is burning now." The fighting later spread across the mountains to the towns of Larnaka and Agirdaki on the inland slopes.

Rope walker awes crowd in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — A 24-year-old daredevil from France walked a tightrope for a halfhour between the rooftops of the World Trade Center's twin 110-story towers this morning, balancing on a metal cable seven-eighths of an inch in diameter.

"If I see three oranges, I have to juggle," Phillipe Petit told authorities later. "And if I see two towers, I have to walk."

The stunt thrilled the curious below as Petit stood, lay down and at one point hung by his feet, police said. Police rushed to the rooftops to apprehend him and when it was over they took him to a hospital's mental ward for examination.

The rooftops of the 1,350-footall towers are 90 feet apart. Police at the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey and friends of Petit said he had performed similar feats in Paris and Australia.

Petit's walk between the buildings almost doubled the previous record for the highest tightrope walk. The Guinness Book of World Records lists the walk of Karl Wallenda over the 750-foot-deep Tallulah Gorge in Georgia in 1970 as the previous record.

Later, awaiting booking on misdemeanor charges of trespass and disorderly conduct, the ebullient Frenchman waxed rhapsodic about the stunt.

"That was the most beautiful place in the world to put a wire to walk. I saw the city waking up, which was beautiful," he said.

In Paris, Petit had walked between the towers of the Cathedral of Notre Dame; in Australia it was the towers of the Sydney Harbor Bridge, according to David Forman.

Forman, a rock singer, said he helped carry cable and other equipment to the top of the office complex past unsuspecting guards and construction workers.

Ford's staff readies for Nixon ouster

DETROIT (AP) — Aides to Vice President Gerald R. Ford say he has signaled his staff to make preparations for his assumption of the presidency when and if President Nixon leaves office, according to the Detroit Free Press.

The newspaper said in today's edition that Ford aides, who asked not to be named, said they now feel they have the vice president's authorization to draw up policy and personnel proposals that Ford would have to act on in the White House.

Ford's staff said the mood represented a dramatic shift over the past day, according to the Free Press.

"In the last 18 hours things have changed," one aide was quoted as saying. "He understands what is happening because he is a realist. And because he knows what must be done for the country, he will make sure that he is ready."

Aides contrasted the situation to the orderly transition of power following an election, the Free Press said.

In addition, they said it was different from the ascension of a vice president following an assassination because Ford would want to move quickly to eliminate remnants of scandal from the administration and to restore public confidence, the paper said.

The Free Press said those who would have a key role in helping form a Ford administration include:

Robert T. Hartmann, his chief of staff; former Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird; former congressman John Marsh; L. William Seidman, a Grand Rapids businessman who has become a top organizer of the vice president's office; and Philip Buchen, a close friend and former Grand Rapids law partner of Ford.

Stock list on upswing

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market put together another strong advance today, riding hopes for an early resolution of President Nixon's future in the White House.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 10.33 to 784.11, increasing its gain since the start of the week to more than 30 points. Gainers held better than a 2-1 advantage over declines on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said the market was responding to news reports this morning of increasing pressure on the President regarding the impeachment question. They said many investors were hoping for a speedy settlement of the issue so that both the White House and Congress could turn their full attention to such economic problems as inflation and high interest rates.

Boeing was the Big Board volume leader, up 1/8 at 18 1/8.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was up .36 at 78.05.

The NYSE's noon composite index of all its listed common stocks stood at 42.60, up .43.

The Amex volume leader was Westrans Industries, up 7/8 at 14 1/4.

Opinion And Comment

Crippling military costs

In the closing years of our country's direct involvement in the war in Vietnam it was often suggested that the war's end would release billions of dollars for badly needed domestic programs. This shimmering bubble has long since burst.

The lesson is freshly driven home by House Appropriations Committee approval of an $83.3 billion money bill for the Department of Defense. This is $3.7 billion less than the administration requested, but still

It is gratifying that Congress insists on some cuts - elimination of more than 40,000 civilian Defense jobs, for example, and shipbuilding reductions. When it is all added up, however, the Pentagon budget approved by Appropriations takes a chockingly big bite of federal revenues.

Champions of military spending at this high level maintain that in a troubled world we have no other recourse. On the face of it they are right: certainly unilateral disarmament would be unwise. The phenomenal size of the Pentagon budget nevertheless is a constant reminder that efforts to bring about disarmament should receive the highest priority. Global military spending, notably including our own, cripples society's response to great human concerns.

A WORD EDGEWISE . . . by John P. Roche

A judicial masterpiece

There were two notable aspects of the Supreme Court's decision in United States versus Richard Nixon, President. The first was that the White House abandoned its standard technique of counterattack. Pat Buchanan did not appear before the press to denounce the eight left-wing, Northeast Establishment types who joined in the opinion. (This has become a bit boring: if a Senator says that President Nixon has not been candid, out pops a White House spokesman to point out that Democratic President Franklin Pierce was a lush.) The second and vastly more important consequence of the Court's holding was that it was not an exercise in judicial overkill. Chief Justice Burger stuck narrowly to the issue and did not go on a safari against executive power in general.

To be specific, the Frames of the Constitution made no provision for "executive privilege," but as sensible men, deeply engrossed in public affairs, they clearly recognized that complicated matters of state can not be conducted in a golfish bowl. The first time the problem of turning confidential documents over to Congress occurred, President Washington, puzzled, asked Secretary of State Jefferson and Secretary of the Treasury Hamilton what they thought he should do. They meditated on the subject and then told Washington to us his own judgment - which he did. This is the way intelligent men run governments - the wild aspect of the Nixon administration is the degree to which every sensible maxim has been pushed to its logical grotesque extreme. The only thing the President hasn't done is cite the separation of powers in defiance of the parking ticket.

CHIEF JUSTICE Burger's opinion can never be employed to justify generalized fishing expeditions. It recognized the President's need for confidentiality in many relationships. As a former Presidential assistant, I believe this to be essential: President Johnson asked me for my frank opinions on people and policies, and I gave them to him. He, in return, annotated a number of my memos in vivid fashion. If either of us had thought that someone would come booming in with a subpoena, the correspondence would have assumed a different, banal flavor.

Yet it should be emphasized that the Johnson-Roche files contain no material relating to criminal behavior. (A number of distinguished Americans might feel libelled, but that is a different matter.) Chief Justice Burger made this distinction and went beyond it to emphasize that the decision on whether any executive files or tapes are relevant to criminal behavior is a matter for the judiciary to determine. In other words, to borrow a phrase from John Locke, the President "can not be a judge in his own cause." He can not decide on his own which documents are necessary evidence in a criminal trial and which are not. The Court, in other words, did not tell Mr. Nixon to turn the tapes over to Leon Jaworski; it told him to turn them over to Judge John Sirica, who will listen to them in secret and decide which fall into the public category.

Thus, contrary to general opinion, the Court's decision did not necessarily amount to a great victory for the House Judiciary Committee. Judge Sirica's charge is to go through the Nixon tapes in search of evidence that my prove material in the criminal trial of the "Watergate 7." The logic is that without this evidence both the defense and the prosecution would be operating in a void, and the result could be - as in the trial of Daniel Ellsberg - a simple dismissal on Sixth Amendment grounds (that is, the defense has not been provided with the evidence necessary, in the court's judgment, to refute, possibly, the accusation).

Obviously there is bound to be some spillover from material supplied to Special Prosecutor Jaworski by Judge Sirica to the activities of the impeachment sponsors in the House, but Chief Justice Burger's opinion was a masterpiece of judicial innocence (the word impeachment is nowhere to be found in the holding). Moreover, it convinces me that I owe the Chief Justice an apology for some of the shots I have taken at his craftsmanship in the past. Simply and clearly he has indicated first, that the President is a citizen subject to the laws; second, that as our First Citizen he has special responsibilities and privileges; and third, that in the event of conflict between his two roles, it is the job of the judiciary to achieve the proper constitutional balance. Mr. Chief Justice, John Marshall would be proud of you.

Lordstown bargaining continues

LORDSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Bargaining over grievances went on late into the night Tuesday in talks between General Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers, a company spokesman said.

Main-table discussions of local contract issues broke up at about 8 p.m., he said, but subcommittees seeking solutions to grievances showed few signs of slowing down.

More talks were scheduled this morning, with negotiators slated to arrive between 8 and 9, the spokesman reported.

The company has said the talks have been stalled over contract language, part of the discussions going on at the main-table sessions.

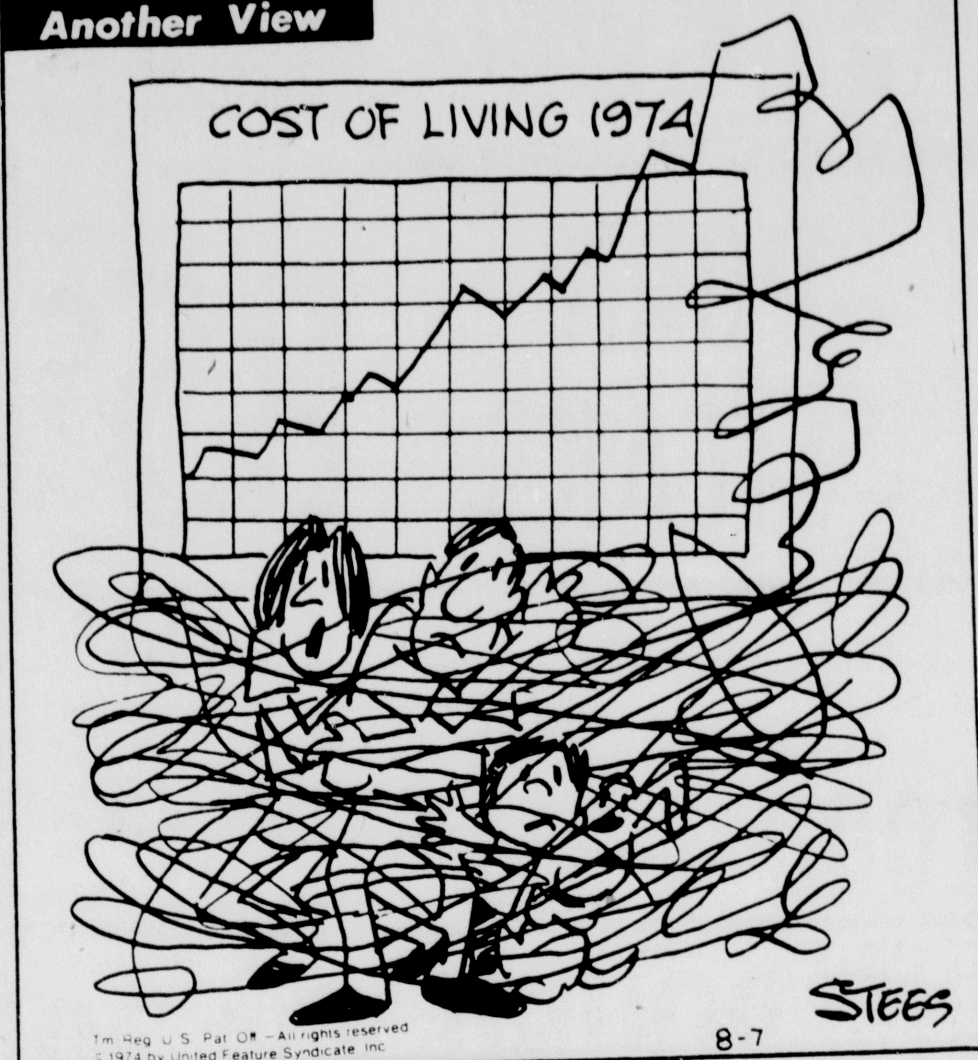

There was no report of progress. The talks have been going on under a news blackout for two weeks.

Ohio Perspective

Highway speeds are on the rise

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — As the shouting over the energy crisis dies down, speeds on Ohio highways are edging upward, the Ohio State Highway Patrol reports.

Still, generally speaking, Ohioans are obeying the 55-mile-an-hour speed limit, the patrol said.

Violations are up. Patrolmen cited 25 per cent more motorists for speeding in June than during the same month last year—25,000 against 20,000.

But, patrol Maj. Adam Reiss said the law is working.

For one thing, Ohio has an exact speed law for the first time. Previously, the state's 70-mile-an-hour limit was what lawyers called a prima facie limit.

That meant that, if you were doing 75 or 80 and could prove in court that you weren't driving too fast for conditions at the time, you legally weren't speeding, attorneys said.

"A lot of courts told us not to bring people in that were doing 7 to 10 miles an hour above the limit unless we could prove it was unsafe," Reiss said.

The new law, which became effective March 1, doesn't give the motorist any margin. Legally speaking, 55 miles an hour means just that.

"But we don't cite many for going 2 or 3 miles over the limit," said Reiss. "The width of the speedometer needle can account for that much."

"I think there is better compliance with the 55-mile limit than there was the 70. Most of the tickets given out now are to persons going under 70."

Speed, however, has edged upward since the energy crisis relaxed and gasoline is easier to obtain, especially on weekends, Reiss said.

He estimated the average speed is up 1 mile an hour for cars and one-half mile for trucks.

"But, most people notice the trucks more," he said.

Cars and trucks, under the new law, have the same speed limits.

Reiss figures most of the violations are between 55 and 60.

"If you go 55 a great many cars pass you," he said. "If you go 60 you pass a lot of them."

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Abby explains a "miracle"

DEAR ABBY: Your advice works miracles.

On June 2, the Philadelphia Bulletin ran the following item, datelined Toronto, Canada:

"The tax department received a letter along with a tax return recently. 'I haven't been able to sleep since cheating on my income tax,' the letter read. 'Am enclosing my check for $500. If still unable to sleep, will mail you the balance.'"

The following item appeared on the same day in the DEAR ABBY column in the Washington (D.C.) StarNews: "DEAR ABBY, I haven't been able to sleep very well. You see I did a little creative bookkeeping on my income tax by way of 'deductions.' Any suggestions?"

INSOMNIAC

"DEAR IN: Send the Internal Revenue Service a check for $500. And if you still can't sleep, send them the balance."

Now, that's what I call action!

A.C. ROBIDOUX, DOVER, DEL.

DEAR A.C.: Not really! The letter in my column was scheduled for release on March 22nd. And that's when it ran in Toronto.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has a big mouth. I've heard that he has been blabbing all around the warehouse where he works all kinds of personal things about his sex life.

This is very embarrassing to me because I know all the guys who work there, and I can hardly look them in the eye knowing they know so much about me.

This is enough to make me want to pack up and leave him. Am I wrong?

STELLA

DEAR STELLA: Don't pack until you're sure he was talking about you.

DEAR ABBY: My wife of 20 years has never shown me much affection. You may say: "All right some people just aren't the affectionate type," but let me lay this on you. When she and her brother get together, you never saw so much hugging, kissing and pawing in your life. They can't keep their hands off each other.

The other night they both sat squeezed together in one little loveseat, and it was obvious that they had more than a sister-brother relationship going.

I didn't make an issue of it because I didn't know how to. This is something completely outside my experience. Maybe divorce is the answer, but I don't want that.

Please publish this with a workable solution as there must be other readers of your column with the same problem.

PUZZLED IN NEW ORLEANS

DEAR PUZZLED: Don't jump to any conclusions. You could be wrong, and you probably are. Many siblings are overtly affectionate to each other, and they have nothing going except brotherly and sisterly love. Since your wife obviously is capable of responding to affection, initiate some, and see what happens.

CONFIDENTIAL TO KAY: Take your time, and get to know him better. When his true character "crops out," you may witness a crop failure.

Team celebrates victory

Monday evening presented itself as a time for much pleasure and entertainment, as Cupp's Baseball Team had a gala celebration at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Schlichter, Myers Rd.

The gathering marked the triumph of the team, which placed 2nd in the county in the A division for girls 8-10 years old.

Team members and their families congregated at the city park and then motored to the thousand acre farm of Mr. and Mrs. Schlichter.

Festivities commenced with a baseball game between parents and children. Badminton and croquet continued, along with frolicking in the hayloft in the barn, until Mr. Schlichter hitched up the hay wagon for a hay ride into the woods.

Paint brushes and buckets of paint were taken along by each girl, until a suitable boulder could be found to declare the victory of their team. On a mammoth rock, each team member inscribed her name in maroon, the team color, under a slogan proclaiming their 2nd place laurel.

As the mothers prepared for dinner, a scavenger hunt, comprised of fathers, daughters, brothers and sisters, provided the opportunity to work up a hearty appetite.

The pot luck, covered dish cookout, centered around the huge open pit barbecue Mr. Schlichter had constructed to prepare the meat provided by him for the occasion. Centered on a table covered with white damask was an enormous maroon and white cake, featuring a baseball mound, and baseball caps on each piece. The cake was furnished by Mrs. Martha Williams.

Mrs. Charles Zinn and Mrs. Bernice Brannigan, coaches for the team, were presented charm bracelets with an attached charm engraved, "Cupp's 1974".

Special mention was given to Mr. Dale Gilmore, Mr. Dick Kent, and Mr. Darrell Schaeffer for their fine job as base coaches during the season, and to Mr. Gary Knisley for his thorough job of scorekeeping.

Mrs. Cinda Slager and Amanda assisted Mrs. Slager's parents in hosting the affair.

Members of the team, sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cupp are -Beth Brannigan, Kelly and Kim Zinn, Jennifer Benz, Brenda Cupp, Donna Kent, Cheri Knisley, Becky Store, Jennifer Slager, Missy Gilmore, Karen Ingram, Sharon Ingram, Missy Kreiger, Kim Thomas, and Lee Ann Shepherd. The Rev. Allen Puffenberger officiated at the vows solemnizing the double ring ceremony.

When the mothers of the bride and groom were seated, Mrs. Emily King sang "One Hand, One Heart" and "The Wedding Song". Mrs. Gene P. Hughes, organist also played "Theme From Love Story" and the Traditional Wedding March. During the wedding ceremony, after the pronouncement, "With Thy Ring" was sung by Mrs. King while symbolizing the union of two people with one candle.

Guests were ushered down church aisles marked with lavender and purple ribbon. The candelabra were adorned with greenery and similar ribbons. Two vases of white gladiolas, lavender Kilian daisies, and purple status graced the altar. Palms were placed at the bottom of the steps.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white silk crepe trimmed with beaded Alencon lace. The empire waist had beaded lace motifs styled with a V-neckline edged with beaded lace. The tapered sleeves were accented by beaded lace motifs which ended at a point. The flowing skirt was accented by self-covered buttons extending down the back. The chapel length wattleau train was complimented by the illusion chapel length veil held in place by a profile Alencon headpiece, covered in lace and seed pearls. The bride carried a cascade arrangement of white daisies, white fugi poms, white roses, accented by status, ivy and baby's breath. A lavender orchid was placed in the center of her bouquet. She also carried a handkerchief borrowed from her mother.

Mrs. Richard Southworth and Mrs. Lawrence Redman, sisters of the groom, served as bridesmaids, and Miss Becky Self, sister of the groom was the junior bridesmaid. The attendants wore gowns of silk organza with deep purple rosettes scattered on the white background. Puffed sleeves and a square neckline edged with Venice lace were featured. A high bodice was gathered with a band of matching Venice lace intertwined with purple velvet ribbon. The full, gathered skirts fell gracefully to the floor. Short purple gloves completed their outfits. Jill Coil, cousin of the bride, wore a miniature gown identical to those worn by the other attendants.

Bridesmaids carried cascades of lavender daisies and purple asters, with purple status, baby's breath, and purple ribbon.

Arthur H. Reiber, Jr., brother of the bride, served as best man. Ushers were Ron and Randy Reiber, both brothers of the bride, and Randy Knox of Washington C.H. Tim Redman, nephew of the bride, was the ringbearer.

Mrs. Reiber chose for her daughter's wedding a formal length gown of hot pink polyester with matching accessories and a shoulder corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Self, mother of the groom, wore a formal length gown of mint green chiffon combined with mint green accessories and a shoulder corsage of yellow sweetheart roses.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Catherine Coil, wore a formal length gown of turquoise chiffon over taffeta with matching accessories. She wore a corsage of pink carnations.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church courtyard. Hostesses were Mrs. Joe Stump and Mrs. John Sesock, cousins of the bride, Mrs. Dave Seaman, Mrs. Mike Stewart, Mrs. Mark O'Flynn, and the United Methodist Women. ## Coal study will cost $2.5 million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Battelle Memorial Institute is investing $2.5 million in a study to develop methods to increase coal production.

Battelle, a major research laboratory, said Tuesday the study is part of a $25 million research program to search for a rapid solution to the nation's critical energy shortages.

Dr. Gerald L. Robinson, who heads the research team in Columbus, said the need for a study is pointed up by the intensified interest in coal as a domestic source of energy.

He said there exists "a critical need to improve the work environment and incentives to attract the required manpower to underground mining." "Also it will be necessary to provide more efficient and effective machinery and systems to effectively utilize the work force." Robinson added that more than half of all mining is done below ground.

The manager of Battelle's Engineering and Systems Developing Department, Gerald A. Francis, said the study on deep coal mining will cover all the facets of underground coal mining instead of merely focusing on individual problems as former researchers have.

Specific attention will be paid to human factors, engineering factors and equipment and industrial engineering systems, Francis said.

"But it will be very concerned with the view of environmental, health and safety standards," he added.

Cincy man murdered by kidnapers

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— Ohio, Indiana and federal law enforcement agencies joined forces today in the investigation of the kidnap-slaying of a retired Cincinnati grocer and the severe beating of his wife in a $45 holdup.

Henry Reed, 71, and his wife, Norma, 42, were kidnaped Monday evening at gunpoint while fishing in the Ohio River at the Public Landing in Rising Sun, Ind., according to Cincinnati Homicide Lt. Daniel Cash.

The couple was found Tuesday morning by neighbors who heard Mrs. Reed's cries from her basement. Her husband lay dead nearby in a lavatory, police said. He appeared to have been strangled possibly with a ligature, Cass said.

Cash gave the following account following questioning of Mrs. Reed at her bed in St. George Hospital.

The couple were fishing on the landing when approached by a "well dressed man and woman." The man drew a .38 caliber pistol and took $15 from Mrs. Reed and forced them both into a car.

The woman, described as thin, well-dressed and blonde, wearing sun glasses, took the Reed car and followed the man driving the Reeds in the other auto.

They drove to the Reed home in the suburban Westwood section of Cincinnati. The couple was taken to the basement and bound with ropes. Their mouths were sealed with tape.

Mrs. Reed fell unconscious to the floor after being beaten on the head with a pistol.

The man and woman fled sometime during the night after finding $30 more in the house. It was the remainder of Reed's Social Security check money, Cash said.

Newspapers call for resignation

By The Associated Press

The Springfield Sun urged strongly today that President Nixon resign for the good of the country.

It was the latest of a number of Ohio newspapers reacting editorially to Nixon's disclosure that he had withheld evidence from Watergate investigators and his defense counsel.

In an editorial entitled, "Nixon Must Resign," The Sun said it had not advocated impeachment of the President until "it became obvious that Mr. Nixon was resisting full investigation and disclosure of the Watergate scandals.

"Now that he stands self-convicted, not only of resisting appropriate scrutiny but of suppressing evidence, obstructing justice and systematically deceiving the American people, it seems to us imperative that he resign," the newspaper said.

The editorial declared that a president "of divided mind and distracted energies simply cannot marshal the kind of leadership which Americans—and for that matter most of the free world—now urgently require."

The Toledo Times, in a milder declaration, said in today's editions "it would definitely be in the public interest if Mr. Nixon resigned."

The newspaper said it is "hard to see what he (Nixon) can expect to gain by hanging on."

The Youngstown Vindicator said Nixon has been stripped of his quality of leadership by his "admission that he deceived the public, Congress and even his own associates."

"With his leadership thus destroyed, with the prospect of his personal fortunes and to save the country further travail, Mr. Nixon should step out."

The Cleveland Plain Dealer said earlier that Nixon should resign "to spare the nation the agony of the impeachment process and himself the humiliation of conviction."

Cystic fibrosis drive chairmen picked here

Local chairmen of the national drive against Cystic Fibrosis have been announced by the Central Ohio Chapter of the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation.

Mrs. Lawrence Moss, 628 Park Dr., and Mrs. Robert Yates, 831 Washington Ave., will spearhead the campaign in Fayette County.

They will organize the "Breath of Life" campaign, a door-to-door campaign scheduled for Oct. 6. Approximately 15,000 volunteer marchers will be soliciting on behalf of the 250 children and young adults who receive medical care and treatment in the Columbus center under the sponsorship of the Central Ohio Chapter. The chapter serves 42 of Ohio's 88 counties.

POSTER CHILD of this year's campaign will be Erin Donahue, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brian Donahue, Columbus. She has a sister, Colleen, and two brothers, Kerry and 13-year-old Shawn, who also has cystic fibrosis.

The diagnosis of the disease in Erin was made when she was three months old. And since that time, she has received extensive treatments. She receives antibiotics, digestants four times each day and sleeps in a mist tent.

Cystic fibrosis is inherited by approximately one in every 1,500 newborns, resulting from both parents carrying the recessive gene for the disease.

Special treatment, such as Erin receives, relieves suffering and helps lengthen lives. The same treatment can be tremendously effective for children with other lung-damaging diseases and can often cure some of these other conditions.

WASHINGTON REPORT

From

WILLIAM H. HARSHA
Representative To Congress
6th District, Ohio

A large portion of our tax dollars go to defense spending. Maintaining a strong system of defense preparedness is certainly an extremely vital matter even in this time of détente, but with the serious economic problems we face today, it is also extremely important to make sure that the money is wisely spent. Recently, the Congress enacted legislation authorizing defense expenditures for this fiscal year. Since it involves some $22.2 billion of the taxpayers' money, I'd like to explain some of the details of this legislation. One of the most significant aspects of the bill is that in debating the proposal, Congress pared almost a billion dollars from the president's original budget request. I hope this fiscal scrutiny and reduced spending efforts are contagious when other sections of the budget are considered in the future. We certainly could use more of both in all government areas.

THE LARGEST chunk of the money will go to military procurement, $13.2 billion. That involves the purchase of weapons and equipment for the three branches of our armed services. A little over three billion of that amount will be spent on ship construction and modernization. In an earlier report, I described the need for improving our naval forces because of reports that the Russians were fast closing the gap between our two navies and could well surpass us in a few short years. On that basis, these authorizations do not appear to be out of line or unjustified.

Another provision prescribes that all combat vessels in the future will be nuclear powered unless the president determines it is not in the national interest. This is a subject which has been studied for decades. Considering the growing energy shortage and our need to rely on other fuel sources, this appears to be an idea whose time has come.

Most of the remaining money in the authorization bill would be spent in the research and development of new weapons and military machinery. Often in the past, this category of spending has been a watering hole for contractors who have fattened their government contracts thru unnecessary cost overruns, delays and other money wasting excuses. One of the most controversial projects in the research and development program, the B-1 bomber, however, received the go ahead for further expenditures but not without a few strings attached. Money for the fourth bomber to be built in contingent on the successful first flight of the prototype of the aircraft. For once, the government is going to test something out to see if it really works before it pumps billions of dollars into the project. That is another idea I hope is contagious in Congressional appropriations.

This bill also places a $1 billion ceiling on assistance to South Vietnamese forces in Fiscal 1975. This is over a half a billion dollars less than originally requested by the Administration. I think that sum is more than enough, if we are to prevent ourselves from getting trapped again into the Southeast Asian conflict.

IN RESPONSE to the recent controversy over Department of Defense animal research, this bill also sets more humane guidelines. It specifically prohibits any research on dogs for the purpose of developing biological or chemical weapons, but it does allow for the continuation of research on dogs for the purpose of saving lives.

Cutbacks ordered for civilians employed by the military are accompanied by reductions of non-combatant military personnel in Europe within two years. Six thousand will be home by June of next year and the remaining 12,000 by the following June. I think it's time the European NATO countries carry a larger and more equitable share of the burden of their own defense.

The burden of our own defense is costly enough these days for we are also fighting the most deadly menace of inflation. Our biggest weapon against it right now is lowered federal spending. Congress would do well to pare wasteful spending from other bills besides defense before we are shorn of our economic viability.

17 Ohio solons want Nixon out

By The Associated Press

At least 17 of Ohio's 23 congressmen say they favor either the impeachment or resignation of President Nixon following recent tape disclosures.

Ten Republicans and seven Democrats told The Associated Press that they would vote for impeachment or favor resignation of the President.

Four congressmen declined comment in Tuesday's survey of Ohio's representatives, and the remainder were undecided or unavailable.

Republican Tennyson Guyer of Findlay said that after disclosing the tapes, Nixon has two choices: impeachment or resignation. Guyer called the second "less painful."

Republican Rep. William E. Minshall of Lakewood, said he feels Nixon "pulled out the rug from under his staunchest supporters on the House Judiciary Committee."

"I think what has happened makes it imperative that we get on with the impeachment process immediately or that the President resign," Minshall added that he would vote for impeachment.

The ranking Republican on the House Public Works Committee, William Harsha of Portsmouth, said that unless Nixon resigns, he too will vote for impeachment.

"He's tied the hands of everybody," Harsha said. "We've taken the oath of office as well as the President. It would be much better for the country if he would resign."

"I think these recent disclosures made it positive beyond a doubt that he (President Nixon) was in on the coverup from the beginning," said Flushing Democratic Rep. Wayne L. Hays.

He urged Nixon to resign to avoid possible Senate conviction and loss of his pension.

One of Nixon's staunchest supporters during the House Judiciary Committee's hearings, Republican Rep. Delbert Latta of Bowling Green, told a national television broadcast Tuesday, "I've always felt that in order to impeach a President you had to have direct evidence and here the President was furnishing the direct evidence himself."

Asked if his vote has switched, Latta said: "Well, we haven't cased that vote, but certainly you can't defend that one particular charge. I think the only remaining question is whether or not that standing in and of itself would be an impeachable offense."

Another Judiciary Committee member, Rep. John F. Seiberling, a Democrat from Akron, said the disclosure confirmed conclusions he had drawn last week.

High price of asphalt deters street patching

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Taxpayers are getting stuck with the high cost of asphalt or stuck in potholes, complains the president of Lake Erie Asphalt Products.

Victor E. Smukler of Cleveland says many cities are being forced to curtail road resurfacing because oil companies are charging an unfair share of crude oil cost against asphalt products.

The government hadn't allocated the asphalt portion of a barrel of oil but had controlled prices of all petroleum products except asphalt, Smukler said in his company newsletter released Tuesday.

Petroleum allocations and controls should be erased entirely or all petroleum products should be controlled and allocated, he said.

"I honestly feel that if they stop to think, especially, those who have a vested interest, they will change their policy," Smukler said.

He called for a statewide campaign against what he called the asphalt crisis.

Liquid asphalt, the main ingredient of "blacktop" road resurfacing material, sold for $32 a ton last year. This year, it sells for $80, he said.

"The tremendous shortsightedness of neglecting asphalt allocation has imposed immense price increases on cities, municipalities, villages and state agencies which were already overburdened with expenses," he said.

One of man's earliest and most reliable forms of transportation, the ferry boat, still draws eager customers from the coast of Alaska to the Bosphorus.

Mysterious topics shared with Lions Club members

Tales of unidentified flying object sightings and other mysterious subjects were shared with members of the Washington C. H. Lions Club during the organization's regular semi-monthly meeting Tuesday night in the Washington Country Club.

Donald E. Wood, a Washington Senior High School teacher who is well-versed on a number of mysterious subjects, sparked the curiosity and imagination of the 82 Lions Club members with some of his spine-tingling stories.

WOOD, a Washington C. H. City Council member, said he became interested in the "unusual" such as unidentified flying objects shortly after World War II while he was working construction.

He said there have been sightings in Washington C. H. — and some unexplained disappearances in the area. Wood cited the example of the Stevenson family, who resided on Ohio 104 between Columbus and Circleville. The incident, which took place several years ago, started when the family invited their minister home for dinner following church services on Sunday.

Before the meal had been prepared, the farmer left the house to check some cattle in a nearby pasture. He never returned, according to Wood, and his disappearance was never explained.

Wood said the farmer had reported noticing unusual lights behind the barn before the incident.

The guest speaker also touched on a number of other fascinating subjects including mental telepathy, the lost continent of Mu, where the Caucasian race was supposed to have originated, the mythical continent of Atlantis, the puzzling facts about origin of life, the strange, unsolved disappearances at the Bermuda triangle and the project launched in 1947 at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, near Dayton, to investigate sightings of UFOs.

During the business meeting conducted by club president Ralph Cook, a number of perfect attendance awards were handed out by secretary Ben Roby.

They were Harry Thraillkill, 25 years; George W. (Bud) Naylor and

Storage shack fire is doused

A wooden storage shack ignited at the rear of 825 Flint Drive at 9:15 p.m. Tuesday and kept Washington C. H. firemen busy subduing the flames with "wet" chemical water for almost two hours.

Assistant Fire Chief John Rockhold explained a pile of tree tops near the shack caught on fire and spread to the shack.

Although there was little damage to the shack, the incident is under investigation.

Richard Coates, 10 years, and William Allen, David Boswell, Cook, Wesley Cox, Dale Dunn, Carmen Frogale, Dustin Gorton, Dr. Joseph M. Herbert, James Hutton, Ralph Hyer, Paul Johnson, Larry Lehman, Richard Lewis, David Looker, William Lucas, Howard McDonald, Tom Mark, Jesse Persinger, Dr. Charles Pfersick, James Polk, Everett Robbins, Roby, Gene Sagar, Dr. Byers W. Shaw, Dale Smith, Daryl Stewart, R. B. (Bud) Sharp and Richard Patton, all one year.

A REPORT on the sale of programs at the harness horse races, demolition derby and tractor pull during the Fayette County Fair was given by Coates, the club's first vice president. Individual reports were presented by Robert Kunz and Joe White.

A total of $1,360 worth of advertising was sold and profits from the sale of programs totaled $1,414.19. The total revenue, less expenses, was $1,963.

Future dates were announced by Cook. The club's annual summer stag party will be held Aug. 20 at the Richard Willis cottage at Rocky Fork Lake; the Lions Club members will hear prospect reports from the Washington C. H. and Miami Trace head football coaches at the Sept. 3 meeting and money will be collected from the sale of Babe Ruth booster tickets at the same meeting, and plans for the annual broom sale will be completed during the Sept. 17 meeting. It was also announced the Lions Club bowling team will begin the winter season Sept. 1.

Foreign newspapers urge Nixon to resign office

By The Associated Press Foreign newspaper criticism of President Nixon and recommendations that he resign increased today. Some editorial writers began to write about his presidency in the past tense.

Governments withheld official comment, saying Nixon's problems are an internal U.S. affair. But diplomats in London said privately that uncertainties over American policy are paralyzing crucial international policy decisions involving monetary reform and defense.

"Nixon's imperial presidency ended the moment he finally admitted he was a liar and a fool," wrote Britain's tabloid Sun.

In Paris, Le Figaro declared there is "a certain power vacuum in the United States.... Richard Nixon is ... nothing but a President on a suspended sentence, and this suspension he accorded to himself. What credibility can he now have with other nations? The greatest power in the world thus finds itself, unprecedentedly, without a rudder."

The editorials came after Nixon released tapes on Monday showing he had attempted to divert an FBI investigation of the Watergate case six days after the June 17, 1972, burglary of the Democratic National Committee headquarters.

Britain's liberal Guardian commented that "a resignation now would come too late to bring the President any credit, but not too late to save his country and the Western world from further months of empty leadership."

The Times of London made the same recommendation.

The Financial Times looked ahead to the prospect of Vice President Gerald R. Ford taking over the presidency. It said Ford "may be well-placed, both by experience and by contrast with Mr.

Nixon, to restore relations with Congress and rebuild the role of the presidency, but he has no popular mandate and no record of executive responsibility."

"The chances are, therefore, that even he will be a relatively weak president, since the Watergate trauma cannot easily be forgotten."

In Japan, newspapers ran large headlines such as "Nixon Admits Cover-Up." Editorial comment was much more restrained.

Impeachment

prompted in part by St. Clair, who had learned last week that Nixon had withheld important evidence from him.

The sources said St. Clair told Nixon "You make a statement or I will," after which the decision was made to release the material.

The surge in support for impeachment brought with it a marked release in tension among House Republicans, who had been dreading the coming vote. Although they made frequent references to the sorrow and anguish of their decision, they found comfort in the numbers of their colleagues joining them.

"Obviously, it relieves the pressure on a number of members who were just on the brink, who were beside themselves," said Rep. Robert H. Michel, R-Ill.

So strong was the surge, members reported it was hard to find anyone who still opposed impeachment. "I don't think there will be anybody in the House who will vote against impeachment," said Rep. John D. Dingell, D-Mich.

But reporters found one in Rep. Earl F. Landgrebe, R-Ind., who said his support for Nixon is unshakable.

Plans nearly complete for roundup on Friday

Final preparations are being completed for the annual Fayette County Cattlemen's Association's summer roundup which will be held at 6 p.m. Friday at the Sam Marting farm.

Tickets for the annual event, which is sponsored by the Fayette County Cattlemen's Association in cooperation with the Washington C. H. Area Chamber of Commerce, are $4.50 per person and can be purchased from any director of the Cattlemen's Association, the Chamber of Commerce officer or the Fayette County Extension Service office.

A special attraction for the annual summer roundup will be a contest for steaks and roasts from the grand champion steer at the Fayette County Fair.

Ora Burdge, of New Holland Enterprises, purchased the grand champion steer at the fair and donated the steer to the Cattlemen's Association for use at the roundup.

ASCS head urges push toward farm goals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of the government's most highly organized and far-flung agricultural bureaucracy has urged grass root leaders to step forth with a new push toward Nixon administration farm goals of free enterprise and market reliance.

Kenneth E. Frick, administrator of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said Tuesday there is pressure developing for more government controls and dabbling in farm operations.

New reliance on government would mean detours in the free enterprise route sought by the Nixon administration, Frick told more than 200 state committee members and office directors who carry out policy for his agency. Committee men are appointed by the administration to help oversee federal farm programs.

"We have taken the other road this time," Frick said in his prepared speech. "We have gone before the fork, and we are moving forward. And the only question I would raise at this point is whether someone is going to detour us."

Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz and other administration farm officials have often referred to a long history of government farm policies and how those have prevented farmers from partaking in the free market.

Frick said many "self-serving efforts" will be made to put farmers back under federal control. One now in Congress, he said, would raise price supports of flue-cured and burley tobacco.

The Nixon farm doctrine has been basically to seek fewer controls and less dependence on high price supports and on direct payments, or subsidies, to farmers.

Another danger, Frick said, involves pressure for the government to own large stocks of commodities — a reference to national food reserve plans advocated by some in Congress.

A gold nugget was found in Dawson City, Yukon, that weighed 72 ounces and 8.5 grains. It was nearly six inches long and was 2 3/4 inches wide at the heavy end and 1 1/4 inches at the smaller end. At $16 an ounce it was valued at $1,158 in 1898.

North Viets capture town near Da Nang

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — After a fierce battle, North Vietnamese troops penetrated a district town 25 miles southwest of Da Nang early today and apparently captured it, the Saigon command reported.

A spokesman said radio contact was lost with the 400 government rangers after the Communist troops captured the Thuong Duc district headquarters in hand-to-hand fighting.

The command said the ground attack against Thuong Duc began shortly before dusk Tuesday after the North Vietnamese fired more than 400 rockets and artillery and mortar rounds.

The town would be the first to fall in the three-week old North Vietnamese drive south of Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city. Three other district towns — the equivalent of U.S. county seats — are threatened.

The command said that on Tuesday, the North Vietnamese battered government positions in central and northern South Vietnam with more than 2,600 rounds of artillery, rockets and mortars.

The Viet Cong charged that South Vietnamese planes on Tuesday bombed Loc Ninh, the Communist headquarters 75 miles north of Saigon, and Bu Dop, 18 miles farther northeast.

A Viet Cong spokesman in Saigon said more than 30 civilians were killed or wounded at Bu Dop. He said that initial reports from Loc Ninh were that dozens of civilians were killed or wounded when bombs hit streets in the center of town.

The South Vietnamese command said it had no reports of such a raid.

In Cambodia, insurgent gunners shelled Phnom Penh for a fourth consecutive night. The military command said two rockets killed one and wounded two persons.

TV Viewing

by JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Unless impeachment debates change planned schedules, all three TV networks will hold "premiere week" — the start of the fall TV season — the week of Sept. 9 amid much ballyhoo and drumbeating. Excluding ABC's "NFL Monday Night Football" show, 62 evening programs are in the networks' lineups for the new season. Of these, 25 are new.

CBS has five new shows and NBC and ABC 10 each. According to network spokesmen, only two won't start during "premiere week."

Those shows, both on ABC-TV, are "Nakia," an hour-long action-adventure series about a lawman of Navajo heritage, and "The Sonny Comedy Revue," starring Sonny Bono, but not Cher, who has left him. "Nakia" debuts Saturday, Sept. 21 and the Bono show Sept. 22.

Another ABC series, "That's My Mama," a half-hour situation comedy about a black family in Washington, D.C., is the only new show getting a jump on premiere week. ABC says it'll air Sept. 4, a Wednesday.

Lady cops, whose ranks are swelling on big-city police forces, will make a limited dent in this season's law-and-order gang on TV.

Premiere week features two of the breed — "Christie Love" on ABC and "Police Woman" on NBC. The shows respectively star Teresa Graves and Angie Dickinson, both as undercover detectives.

Another NBC series, "Amy Prentiss," features Jessica Walter as a police lieutenant in charge of male cops. The show replaces the "Hec Ramsey" segment on NBC's "Sunday Mystery Movie" quarter, but NBC says it doesn't know yet if Lt. Prentiss will report for duty Sept. 15.

Only two new shows — CBS' "Roda," a spinoff from the "Mary Tyler Moore Show" and NBC's "Born Free" — are on the Monday schedule during television's big week, and no new series will appear Tuesday nights.

The week's real rush of new series starts Wednesday, Sept. 11, with "Sons and Daughters" and "The Manhunter" on CBS; "Little House on the Prairie,"

"Lucas Tanner" and "Petrocelli" on NBC and "Christie Love" on ABC.

On Sept. 12, NBC's "Sierra" and "Movin' On" shows and ABC's "Paper Moon" and "Harry O" series will debut as regular programs.

CBS' new offering for Friday the 13th is "Planet of the Apes." NBC will provide "Chico & the Man," "The Rockford Files" and "Police Woman" as its new-show fare that night, while ABC is offering "Kodiak," "Texas Wheelers" and "Kolchak: The Night Stalker."

On Saturday, Sept. 14, the new regular shows kicking off are "The Paul Sand" show on CBS and ABC's "The New Land" series, to be joined a week later by "Nakia."

The only blockbuster movies in the premiere week lineup are the film version of "M-A-S-H," aired by CBS Friday night, Sept. 13, and "Kluge," starring Jane Fonda as a prostitute and Donald Sutherland as a detective. NBC says it'll show that film Saturday Sept. 15.

GM lays off 710 workers

BUFFALO (AP) — The continuing strike at the Chevrolet Vega assembly plant in Ohio has resulted in the temporary layoffs of 710 production workers at two General Motors Corp. plants in the Buffalo area.

The strike at the Lordstown, Ohio, plant is now in its fourth week. The plant is the only one in the country that assembles the sub-compact Vega.

A spokesman said 560 workers were idled at Chevrolet Motor Division plants in Buffalo and suburban Tonawanda at the end of Tuesday's work shifts.

About 250 of the Buffalo workers were to be recalled Monday, but no date was set for the Tonawanda workers' recall.

Another 150 Tonawanda workers were to be furloughed at the end of today's shifts.

Variety of reports aired

County's crop conditions eyed by Chamber directors

The Washington C. H. Area Chamber of Commerce board of directors heard a number of reports during their regular monthly session held Wednesday morning in the Chamber of Commerce office.

John Gruber, Fayette County agricultural Extension agent, met with board members to appraise them of their state watershed tour to be held here in September and local crop conditions. Gruber requested the Chamber directors to participate in the watershed tour which will be held in Fayette County on September 18 and includes several stops on both the Upper Paint Creek and Rattlesnake watershed projects.

With respect to the condition of Fayette County's crops, Gruber indicated the lack of rain in the next week to 10 days could mean a possible yield reduction of 20 per cent. Economically, Gruber indicated this could result in a $4 or $5 million loss and that his money generally turns over approximately four times as it passes through the community.

CHAMBER DIRECTOR Norman Schiering reported a probable attendance of 500 persons for the annual Fayette County Cattlefeeders Association - Businessmen's summer roundup scheduled for Friday on the Sam Marting farm. Several Chamber directors will be working with Cattlefeeder association members on the various committees for the event.

The Chamber's education committee has virtually completed plans for the August 29 Teacher-Get-Acquainted Day program to be held at Miami Trace High School, according to a report from Don Bailey. He said approximately 55 new teachers in the county's two school systems are anticipated for the annual event.

In other educational notes, the board discussed a September meeting to be held with school officials for both systems in regard to school issues that will be appearing on the November ballot.

In other reports, the board heard from Larry Lehman's professional recruitment committee, and George Winkle's industrial task force. The board also appraised the new format being used for the Chamber newsletter and received a report on the annual audit which has just been completed.

The special projects committee, headed by director Paul Johnson, has agreed to hold an auction in the downtown area on September 21 in conjunction with a planned retail promotion. The auction will serve as a fund-raising project for new Chamber office equipment.

B'burg solons reject proposed voting plan

BLOOMINGBURG — Bloomingburg village council members Tuesday night failed to endorse a proposed voting structure plan submitted by the Mid-Ohio Regional Planning Commission. Village councilmen rejected the proposal which would have given Fayette County three votes on the eight-county regional planning commission. Fayette County has 2.2 per cent of the population in the eight-county area and 7.9 per cent of the voting strength.

negotiate with members of the Bloomingburg Lions Club concerning the possibility of turning over the club-operated baseball park to the village. If the Lions Club agrees to donate the park to the village, the council members will be seeking state assistance for improvements.

Two building permits were issued during the meeting. Charles Hunt Jr. was issued a building permit to construct a new residence at 81 Biddle Blvd., and Eugene Gray was authorized to construct a new utility building at 58 Miron Street.

In other matters, routine bills, totaling $1,311.81, were paid.

Man gets $25 fine in court

A New Holland man pleaded guilty to a charge of shoplifting in Municipal Court Tuesday evening and was fined by Judge Omar Schwartz. Three other cases filed on private warrants were dismissed.

Jerry D. Tuttle, 18, of New Holland, was fined $25 for attempting to shoplift two small automobile parts from Buckeye Mart. The charge was filed by a store security guard.

A charge of disorderly conduct filed against Dannie M. Hoagland, Bloomingburg, was dismissed by the court and costs were waived.

A bad check charge filed against Francis J. Brennan, 31, Jeffersonville, was dismissed when the defendant agreed to cover the check and pay court costs.

A charge of disorderly conduct filed against Sheridan Smith, 109 Water St., was dismissed and the plaintiff was ordered to pay the costs.

Mishap victim still critical

Cora Lynn Bryan, 17, Jeffersonville, was listed in critical condition at Fayette Memorial Hospital Wednesday morning.

She was injured early Tuesday when thrown from her car which crashed on U.S. 62, about three miles south of Washington C. H. Sheriff's deputies said she apparently lost control of the car on a curve.

She underwent surgery Tuesday for nearly three hours.

Blood run made

Fayette County Sheriff's deputy Larry Camp made a blood run at 3:45 a.m. Tuesday to the intersection of CCC Highway E and I-71, where he picked up blood from the Columbus blood bank, brought to the intersection by a Franklin County Sheriff's deputy.

Deputy Camp then drove the blood, intended for Cora L. Bryan, who was injured in a car accident Tuesday morning, to Fayette Memorial Hospital.

Stockmen urged to watch for cattle disease

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department is warning stockmen to be on the guard for anaplasmosis, a blood disease of cattle.

Horseflies are the most common carrier of the disease, officials said, but it also can be spread by mosquitoes in heavily-infested areas. The malady is characterized by anemia and is infectious but not contagious, officials said.

"This means the organism must get into the blood stream of an animal either from an insect bite or careless handling of medical or other instruments," the department said Tuesday.

Texas lawyer confesses that he bribed Connally

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas lawyer Jake Jacobsen today pleaded guilty to a charge of bribing his one-time friend John B. Connally with $10,000.

In return, the Watergate special prosecution force agreed to drop the government's seven-count indictment against Jacobsen in an unrelated savings and loan scandal in San Angelo, Tex., and to bring no further charges against Jacobsen concerning matters already uncovered by the prosecutors.

Jacobsen was indicted last week at the same time Connally was named in a five-count indictment charging bribery, perjury and a conspiracy to obstruct justice. Connally is scheduled to enter his plea Friday and has said he is innocent.

Jacobsen promised prosecutors to testify truthfully at a trial if called as a witness. He is expected to be the Watergate prosecutor's star witness at the anticipated trial of Connally, a former secretary of the Treasury and one-time governor of Texas.

Jacobsen said, in pleading before U.S. District Judge George L. Hart Jr., that he had given Connally two $5,000 payments on behalf of his client, Associated Milk Producers Inc., the nation's largest dairy cooperative.

The money allegedly was given to Connally in return for his help in persuading President Nixon to raise federal milk price supports in March 1971.

Jacobsen was once a close aide to the late president Lyndon B. Johnson.

Eagleton renominated for Senate

By The Associated Press
Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton has easily won renomination in Missouri's Democratic primary but the man dropped as his party's 1972 vice presidential candidate is ruling out any future bid for national office.

In Kansas, Rep. William R. Roy became the overwhelming choice of Democrats to run for the U.S. Senate against incumbent Sen. Bob Dole, former Republican national chairman.

Michigan Democrats picked former state Sen. Sander Levin for an election rematch against another Republican incumbent, Gov. William S. Milliken.

And Sen. Frank Church handily won renomination by Idaho's Democrats. These were some of the results in the only four states that held primaries Tuesday.

Less than one-third of Missouri's registered voters turned out, but Eagleton rolled up 88 per cent of the tally. He will defend his seat against former Rep. Thomas B. Curtis, his Republican counterpart who also had little trouble being nominated. In 1968 Eagleton won his first Senate seat by narrowly defeating Curtis, then a nine-term congressman from St. Louis.

"I have no national ambitions whatsoever, and you can put a triple exclamation point after that," said Eagleton. Two years ago he was removed from the second spot on George McGovern's presidential ticket after he disclosed that he had undergone treatment for mental depression.

In Kansas, Roy rolled up 84 per cent of the vote to crush former state treasurer George Hart. Dole was unopposed in the GOP primary.

State Senate President Robert F. Bennett held a tenuous lead early today over attorney Don Concannon in the race for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Street repair, truck purchase win approval

SABINA — The Sabina village council reviewed and accepted bids for two village contracts totalling over $16,000 Tuesday night. Only one bid was submitted to the council on each contract.

The bulk of the funds were appropriated for the repair of a number of streets and alleys in Sabina. A bid of just over $13,000 was submitted by the Clinton Asphalt and Paving Co., which was awarded the contract. A complete list of the streets and alleys scheduled for repair can be obtained from Tom Wood at the clerk's office.

The other bid accepted was from the Heag Motor Co., Hillsboro, which will sell the village a panel truck for $3,200. The truck will be used by the sewer department to carry tools and machinery to work locations.

The meeting was held Tuesday night after a quorum of councilmen was unable to attend the regular meeting Monday night.

Minor traffic mishaps probed

A loose semi taillight popped off and bounced up hitting a car driven by Ronald Langley, 33, of 515 Second St., in the grill and radiator at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday, the Fayette County Sheriff's Department reported.

The freak accident occurred while semi driver, Donald J. Thompson, 54, Blanchard, and Langley were driving on Ohio 38 in Paint Township. Moderate damage was incurred by Langley's auto.

Sheriff's deputies also reported a hit-skip incident and the Washington C.H. Police Department investigated an accident caused by a power steering failure.

A fence owned by Fred W. Conner, Rt. 4, was struck by a hit-skip driver who failed to negotiate a curve on Ohio 41, 300 feet south of Lampe Road, and traveled left of center, off the road and into the fence, sheriff's deputies reported.

Power steering on a car driven by Wayne L. Roberts, 20, of 229 Delaware St., failed at 9:17 a.m. Tuesday, causing him to collide with the concrete base of a lamp post in the parking lot of the Farm Restaurant, Columbus Avenue, city police reported.

The Yukon is located in the northwestern section of North America. It is bordered on the north by the Arctic Ocean, on the south by the province of British Columbia, on the east by the Northwest Territories and on the west by Alaska.

Rotary speaker eyes possible impact of phone competition

Members of the Washington C. H. Rotary were issued a warning regarding the possible impact and problems that could arise through competition in the telephone industry during their regular weekly luncheon meeting Tuesday in the Country Club.

Robert Nuessle, commercial manager of the Ohio Telephone Co.'s Lancaster office, said competitive telephone companies are presently selling equipment outright primarily to business firms, and private long distance circuits dealing directly with big corporations.

HE SAID the telephone industry is monopoly, but operates under strict government regulations and that the idea of competition "sounds good, but there would be no better rates or services. Nuessle said basic rates would increase with the addition of competition and the dependability of service would decrease."

Nuessle, past president of the Lancaster Rotary Club who gave a similar program early Tuesday morning at a meeting of the Lancaster Kiwanis Club, said in the early 1960s there were two telephone companies in Washington C. H. which created a serious problem since the two systems were not interconnected.

Now there is only one system operating some 14,400 telephones in the Washington C. H. area and 95 per cent of the homes here have phones. He said there are 1,700 other telephone companies in the nation and they provide a vast network of service.

Additional statistics provided by Nuessle to the Rotarians disclosed there are 130 million telephones in the nation and a staggering total of 425 million calls are placed daily. Over one million persons are employed by the Bell System nationwide, he said.

Bruce Galloway arranged the program.

During the business meeting conducted by club president Paul Crosby, it was announced that James Valentine, of Vandalia, the new Rotary Club district governor, will make his official visit to the Washington C. H. club next Tuesday. Crosby said a club assembly will be held at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the Country Club in order that club officers and individual committee chairmen will have the opportunity to meet with the new district governor, who succeeds Robert Haigler, of Washington C. H.

Walter Ayub, of Bolivia, the Rotary

Club's foreign exchange student here this year, bade farewell to club members and expressed his appreciation to them for making his stay in Washington C. H. possible. The Bolivian student has resided with Rotarian Bob Cannon for the past four months. Cannon also had as guests his sons, Bud and Rusty, the latter just having returned to Washington C. H. from a summer foreign exchange student program in England.

ROTARIAN Dwight Morner had as his guests, his son, Tom, who was a Rotary Club foreign exchange student in England last year, and David Muggleton, of Kettering, England, who is presently visiting with the Morner family.

Other guests were Kirk Marting, Britt, Iowa, with his grandfather, Sam Marting, and Willis Guyer with Bill Pool. Visiting Rotarians were Darrell French, of Wilmington, Merrill Kaufman, of Delaware, Art Dick, Gene Garrison and Ed Rainsboro, all of Mount Sterling, Jerry Ardrey and Max Whiteside, of London, and Harry Calkins, of Lancaster.

Cool, wet over nation

By the Associated Press

Most of the nation enjoyed cool weather tinged with wetness today as temperatures dipped into the 50s and 60s.

Light drizzle fell in the Midwest, relieving drought-stricken farm regions. But winds churned through central Wisconsin and some funnel clouds were reported.

Scattered thunderstorms also sifted through the Gulf and Atlantic Coast states. A cold front pushed storms into the Rocky Mountain regions.

Clouds and fog lingered over portions of the Pacific Coast, but most of the region enjoyed fair skies as did the Mississippi Valley and upper New England.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 52 at Bradford, Pa., to 95 at Needles, Calif.

Traffic Court

A Washington C. H. man arrested by city police for driving while intoxicated pleaded guilty in Municipal Court Tuesday evening and was fined by Judge Omar Schwartz.

David G. Armstrong, 26, of 619 Pearl St., was fined $200, sentenced to three days in jail and lost his license for 30 days after pleading guilty to the DWI charge.

All others scheduled to appear on traffic citations forfeited bond.

Old Fashioned event studied by merchants

A review of the recently-completed Old Fashioned Bargain Days promotion was conducted during the regular monthly meeting of the Downtown Business Association Tuesday in the Washington C. H. Area Chamber of Commerce office.

Association chairman Ray Downing said the members termed the four-day promotion, concluded here Saturday, as "outstanding." The retail merchants also agreed to maintain next year's Old Fashioned Bargain Days promotion on a similar format.

PREPARATIONS for the Shrine Club ceremonial which will be held in Washington C. H. in August were continued by association members.

It was announced that special posters welcoming the Shriners have been developed by the retailers. The posters can be purchased by businesses or service organizations at the Washington C. H. Area Chamber of Commerce office.

The downtown merchants association also agreed to hold a fall coupon promotion in conjunction with the Airstream caravan rally which will be in Washington C. H. for a four-day event.

The Airstream caravan rally will be headquartered at the Fayette County Fairgrounds.

The promotion will be held Saturday, Sept. 21.

Under the new promotion, each downtown business will have special coupons with discounts on certain items. Additional details will be announced at a later date.

County youth attending 4-H conservation camp

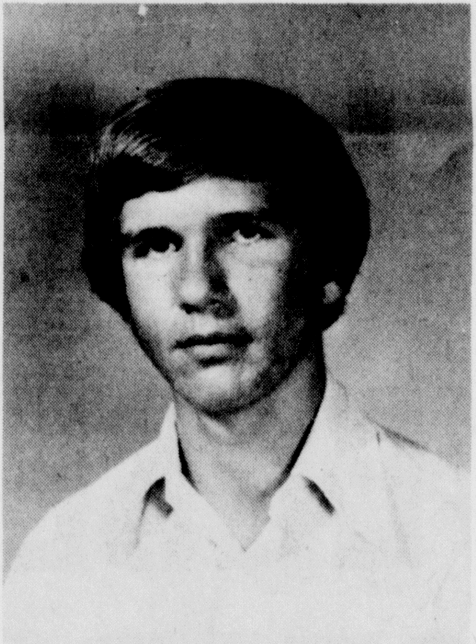

David Louis, son of Dr. and Mrs. John Louis, White Road, is one of 200 youngsters in Ohio participating in the 39th annual Ohio 4-H Conservation Camp being held at Camp Ohio. The camp opened Monday and will continue until Aug. 10.

While at camp, Louis is learning about water resources, outdoor and recreation, forestry, land and its use and wildlife.

Campers are visiting a nearby sawmill, strip mine, water treatment plant and power plant.

ACTIVITIES will include fishing, cookouts, nature crafts, recreation and swimming. The camp is sponsored by the Ohio Cooperative Extension Service with support from Gene Derickson, Ohio Federation of Soil and Water Conservation Districts, Columbus; C. L. Horn, Federation - Cartridge Corp., Minneapolis, Minn., and R. H. Oman, the Columbus Foundation, Rausenberger Conservation Fund, Columbus.

Such conservation camps are held in 30 states and annually give thousands of young people the opportunity to learn more about the conservation of natural resources. The Ohio Camp, in its 39th

Proposed bond issue heads for fall vote

The Fayette County Board of Education adopted a resolution during its regular semi-monthly meeting Tuesday night to "proceed with the election" concerning the new junior high school.

Voters will be asked to approve a 2.49 mill increase for the proposed new junior high school on the November 15 ballot.

The 2.49 millage was certified by the Fayette County auditor in mid-July and the proposal will be submitted Wednesday to the Fayette County Board of Elections in order to appear on the ballot. All board members except Wayne Arnold voted in favor of the proposal.

Marvin Dement, board vice-president, led board members through a heavy agenda in the absence of board president Kenneth Payton. Matters included teacher and custodian employment, teacher resignations, leaves of absences, custodian retirements and the employment of personnel and teacher aides for the Title I and DPPP programs.

THE BOARD also accepted bids for school bus insurance, student activity insurance and reviewed policies pertaining to insurance coverage on school district buildings and contents. Bids for milk and bakery products were also accepted.

In addition, the board also adopted an adult basic education program, accepted recommendations for kindergarten materials, adopted textbooks for junior high school science courses, heard tuition requests and requests for attendance at professional meetings.

The following teachers were employed by the board: Gary Spears, Jeffersonville, who holds a bachelor of arts degree from Ohio Northern University and will teach history; Frank Russ, Detroit, Mich., who holds a masters in science from the University of Cincinnati and will teach chemistry with eight years of experience; Constance Evans, Westerville, who holds a bachelor of arts degree from Otterbein College and will teach home economics; Don Trainer, Beaver, who holds a Masters in Art from Xavier University and will teach mathematics with six years experience; Thomas LeVan, Vandalia, who holds a bachelor of science from Ohio University and a Masters in Education from Wright State University (he has nine years experience and will assume the position of principal at Bloomingburg Elementary-School starting Aug. 22); Rosemary Hollingsworth, Xenia, who holds a bachelor of arts degree from Cedarville College and will assist with the learning disabilities program at Chaffin Elementary School; and Harriette Depugh, who holds a bachelor of science degree from Ohio University and will teach second grade at Madison Mills Elementary School.

Mary Shaeffer, New Holland, was employed for a custodial position at New Holland Elementary School, effective Aug. 19. There are several custodial openings in the county school system and those interested should contact assistant superintendent Steve Yambor at the county office.

A resignation submitted by John Wedgewood, a math teacher at Miami Trace High School, was approved by the board and will become effective Aug. 24.

A second resignation submitted by Larry Stover, a business teacher at Miami Trace High School, was amended by the board to state if a replacement was found for Stover by

Aug. 13, his resignation would meet approval.

A leave of absence was granted Linda Hyer, an elementary teacher at Wayne Elementary School, Aug. 29 June 6 by the board.

The retirements of Mary Huff and Howard Pinkerton were approved by the board. Mrs. Huff has been with the county school system 24 years and her resignation will become effective Aug. 30. Pinkerton had been with the school system 23 years and officially resigned Aug. 1.

Terry Kitchen was granted employment by the board Aug. 7 through Aug. 30, as summer maintenance help.

The board granted a request on the part of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Writsel, South Solon, for their two daughters to attend the county school system on a tuition basis and also voted to release Jeff Patton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Patton, from the county school system in order for him to attend Washington Junior High School this school year.

Title I teachers approved by the board were Nancy Harper, Chaffin; Evelyn Reser, Jeffersonville; Beverly Lyons, Madison Mills and New Holland; Vicky Leasure, Wilson and Wayne; Patricia James, Chaffin and Bloomingburg and Ann Spahr, Staunton.

Peggy Gass will serve as "helping teacher" for the county schools, June Slaughter will serve as the Title I program coordinator, Martha Fleming will serve as clerk for the program, and Nancy Chaney will serve as secretary.

Educational aides assigned by the board will be JoAnn Smith, Jasper; Jean Smith, Wilson and Staunton; Ruth Keiser, Olive and Chaffin; Weltha Garringer, Jeffersonville; Janet Spears, Jeffersonville; Mildred Donohoe, Chaffin; Norilee Zimmerman, Wayne; Leoma Creamer, New Holland; Charlotte Gilbert, Bloomingburg and Pauline Writsel, Madison Mills.

Jean Higgins, Jeffersonville, Ruth Staybrook, Bloomingburg; Betty Bakenhester, Wayne and June Fennig, Eber, will serve as educational aides and secretaries.

Substitute educational aides approved by the board were Mrs. Wayne Arnold, Jane Campbell, Medrith Price, Becky Perkins, Jirdena Waddle and Paula Campbell.

Visiting the board meeting Tuesday, was Washington C.H. insurance agent Richard Willis, who made future recommendations to board members concerning insurance coverage on school buildings, contents and boilers. Willis Insurance holds the present insurance contract for the county school system.

The board voted to stay with the Guarantee Trust Life Insurance Co., Chicago, Ill., for student accident insurance. The Charles Sheridan Insurance Co., of Washington C.H., is the local agent offering primary coverage for all students and extending excess coverage for those students involved in football. This amounts to a premium of $18 per player.

A roll-call vote unanimously approved the authorization of the board to cooperate with Hopewell Educational Resource Center and Clinton County Board of Education in assisting within a five-county area with the instruction of special education students. Superintendent Guy M. Foster stated this program is mostly federally-funded, leaving a minimal cost of 16 cents per each of the 3800 students involved.

Another roll-call vote by board members approved the "Right to Read" resolution which commits the Fayette County Board of Education to advance reading improvement among all grades.

The board approved a list of recommendations concerning kindergarten books and materials, an extension of the Open Court Reading Series in intermediate grades, and adopted materials to be used in seventh and eighth grade science classes.

SCHOOL BUS insurance will be handled again by the Town and Country Insurance Co., here. MAYSVILLE, Ky. (AP)— Three Ohio men, one a U.S. Army Recruiter, will face a hearing Saturday in Mason County Court in connection with the theft of an estimated $50,000 worth of antiques taken from two homes near here.

William Cooper, 24, Aberdeen, Ohio, was arrested in Minerva, Ky. Tuesday and released on $3,000 bond.

Marion Tyler, 36, Wheelersburg, the recruiter, was arrested July 26 with his brother, Kenneth.

Agronomy-tobacco day slated for Thursday

What is new in agronomy and tobacco will be shared with those attending a special agronomy-tobacco day event from 1 until 5 p.m. Thursday at the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center's southern branch at Ripley, according to E. Ivor Jones, area supervisor for the Washington C.H. area.

The event at the OARDC southern branch, which is under the supervision of Jim Wells, Extension specialist, tobacco and farm manager, will feature eight stops concerning the production of agronomy and tobacco.

The stops will involve direct seeding of alfalfa, tillage systems to save soil and fuel, tips for reducing corn harvest losses, alternatives to dry and store grain, no-till pasture seedings, cigar leaf tobacco, horticulture for the area, and burley tobacco. At 5 p.m. there will be a demonstration of a new concept in hay preparation. All interested farmers are encouraged to observe the demonstration.

Tobacco producers from a number of surrounding counties have found this event to be of the best educational activities sponsored by the Ohio Cooperative Extension Service in southern Ohio. Each year finds something new and different regarding the production of the tobacco crop, which brings better than $12 million of agricultural income to Ohio counties.

The various stops will be manned by Extension specialists and area county agents.

Business News

New upholstery business opened on Temple Street

A new upholstery shop, specializing in custom made draperies, bedspreads and slipcovers, has opened in Washington C. H.

The shop, known as Ann Marie Upholstery, is owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schreckengaust, 930 E. Temple Street. The upholstery shop, presently undergoing a complete renovation, is located at 932 E. Temple Street.

Mrs. Schreckengaust, a native of Washington C.H., owned and operated a similar upholstery shop in Springfield. She operated the Springfield shop for four years.

The Schreckengausts moved to Washington C.H. from Springfield two months ago.

Before acquiring the Springfield upholstery shop, Mrs. Schreckengaust operated a grocery store in Austin, Ross County, for four years and served as manager of Lawson's dairy stores in Newark and Xenia for two years.

MRS. HELEN ROE, of David Roe Jewelers, 123 E. Court St., has returned from New York City where she attended the 1974 fall international jewelry trade fair and convention. While in New York Mrs. Roe attended the slide presentation and lecture on the growing demand for colored stones presented by Robert Crowingshield, director of the Eastern headquarters of the Gemological Institute of America. She also visited all the jewelry exhibits of American, German, Italian, Spanish, English, Scandinavian and the Orient.

Money Does Matter . . .

By David G. Looker

ARE YOU REALLY GETTING ANYWHERE? JUST WHERE DO YOU STAND NOW?

Is your current "Money" attitude getting you anywhere? List your present financial assets, and your outstanding obligations, and you'll have the clue you need for a good answer.

This includes everything: checking and savings accounts, cash on hand, cash value of any life insurance, investments — a reasonable market value of your home (or the equity you have in that market value) — your equity in your car — market value (what you'd get today) of your personal property.

Take the sum total of all your assets, deduct all unpaid bills, loans, other debts — and where do you stand?

Do this regularly, once twice, or three times a year. Then look at what is happening. If there isn't significant improvement each time, then a needed change is indicated. Think it over and get some advice.

Congratulations to . . .

Clarence "Pop" Campbell who just recently celebrated his 90th birthday.

Baseball ponders another expansion

NEW YORK (AP) — The expansion boom that has marked nearly every major sport in the past few years has been noticeably absent in baseball — and perhaps the major leagues now are ready to do something about it.

Expansion was expected to be one of the important topics of discussion as the major league owners began their twoday summer meetings today. Although there was no proposal for expansion talk at the sessions, "It doesn't mean that expansion couldn't come soon," one league official said.

Maj. Kendall wins shooting crown

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP) — Maj. Presley Kendall edged out Army Reserve Maj. Dennis Dingman to capture the National Smallbore Rifle Championship here Tuesday.

Kendall, of Carlisle, Ky., won his third smallbore rifle title with a 6,390 out of a possible 6,400 in the four day event. Dingman, of Sioux Falls, S.D., recorded a 6,388.

BY MARK REA
Record-Herald Sports Writer
Another in the long line of accomplishments and honors have been bestowed upon former Blue Lion star Garth Cox of 902 S. Main Street. Early this year Cox, after much deliberation, signed a national letter of intent, binding him to Ohio State University in Columbus. Then he was selected sole representative of the Associated Press' top-ranked Class AA Blue Lions to play in the North-South All-Star game in Canton, Ohio.

Now Cox has been chosen to compete in the 'Big 33' All-Star game to be played at Hershey, Pennsylvania this Saturday evening, August 10, at 8 p.m. The 'Big 33' game is comprised of the best 33 college freshmen-to-be in Ohio pitted against the 33 best from Pennsylvania. The 6-5, 245 pound Cox will be the first Blue Lion to be selected to play in this game.

This is the third annual meeting between Ohio and Pennsylvania. The game began in 1972 with Pennsylvania beating Ohio by two points. In 1973, Pennsylvania again edged Ohio, this time by just one point.

Cox was perhaps the most sought after senior in the state and certainly the most sought after Washington C. H. has ever had. Colleges and universities began contacting Cox with lucrative deals when he was still just a junior. Over 100 colleges had contacted him before he finally decided upon OSU.

Cox's impressive credentials from last year's Blue Lion squad was a giant factor in being selected for the 'Big 33' game. He was honored by being picked All-SCOL, first team All-District, and honorable mention All-State.

Cox will become an offensive tackle for the Buckeyes this year, a small change from being offensive guard in his high school days. His number will be 78. The first game for OSU this fall will be against Minnesota on the Gophers home field on September 14. The home opener will be exactly one week later against Oregon State.

Nicklaus looks for PGA win; co-favored along with Player

CLEMMONS, N.C. (AP) — When things go bad, the customers always write.

So mused Jack Nicklaus, noting that his mail box is stuffed with suggestions on how to cure his golfing ills.

"You'd be surprised how many letters I get from people who know what I am doing wrong," said the game's greatest collector of major titles, allowing himself only two days preparation for defense of his PGA Championship beginning Thursday.

Nicklaus, whose last victory was the Hawaiian Open Feb. 3, is co-favorite with South Africa's Gary Player in the tourney over the 7,050-yard, par-70 Tanglewood course starting Thursday.

At last count, 146 touring and club professionals were prepared to tee off in the 72-hole tourney that ends Sunday.

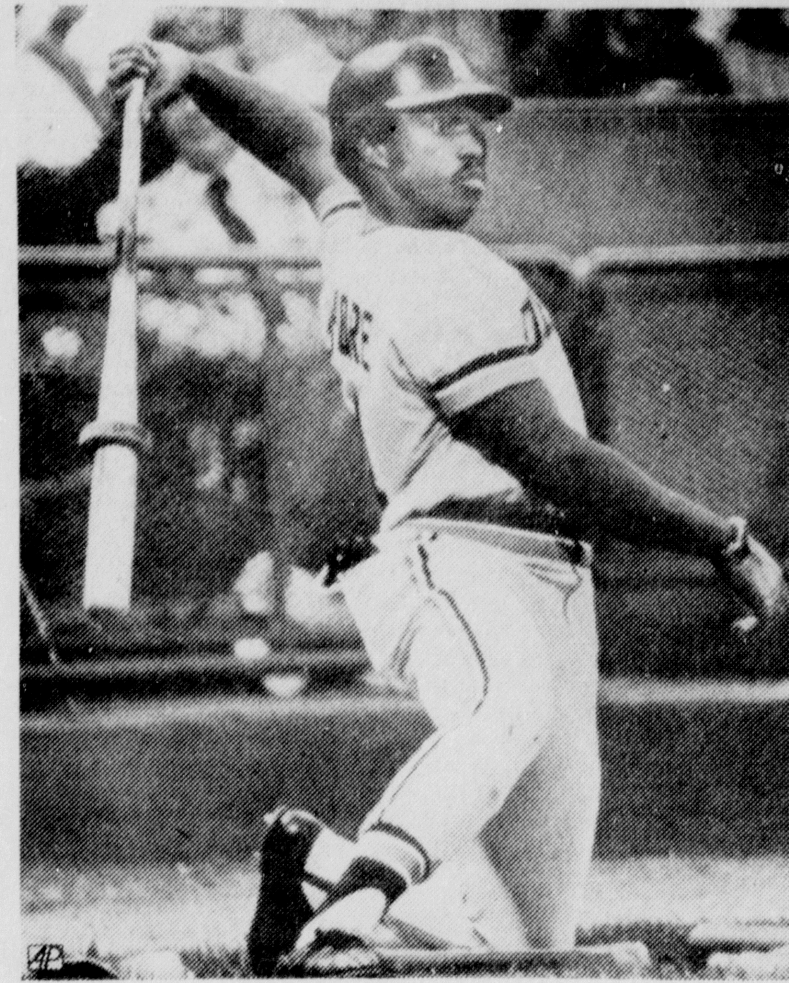

Late withdrawals included Hale Irwin, the U.S. Open champion, whose wife is expecting a baby; veteran Julius Boros, suffering from a back ailment; Buddy Allin, who has a sore shoulder, and former title-holder Jack Burke Jr., who decided not to compete.

"I am not playing that badly," said Nicklaus, who breezed in Tuesday for his second tour of the course. "But I've not been totally happy with my game."

"I've been close several times, in a position to win. But each time I've backed off."

Nicklaus practiced Tuesday and planned another round today.

"Usually, I like more preparation," the 30-year-old Nicklaus said. "But I had no more early practice last year when I won at Canterbury (Cleveland)."

Jeffersonville All-Stars scores

Last night in a doubleheader, the Hillsboro All-Stars took a pair from the Jeffersonville All-Stars by scores of 6-1 and 6-4.

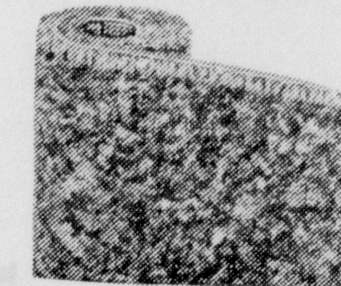

In Hillsboro's 6-1 victory, Hillsboro was limited to just four hits but Jeffersonville collected only two in addition to making three errors. Hillsboro committed five errors although none of them were costly mistakes.

Jeff King was the losing pitcher while Aler was the winner. He struck out seven while King struck out five. Ben Allen relieved King in the fourth inning and struck out five also.

In the second game of the twin-bill, each team collected six hits but Hillsboro capitalized on three Jeff errors and won 6-4. Dunlop went the distance in picking up the win while striking out eight and Kirk McDonald was the losing pitcher, also pitching a complete game and striking out four.

Suspect returns to Van Wert

VAN WERT, Ohio (AP)— Robin Bender of Columbus Grove, accused of murdering two Delphos men, was returned here Tuesday after waiving extradition from Wisconsin.

Bender, who is charged with the slayings of Kenneth Youngpeter and his father Louis, was arrested over the weekend in the Milwaukee area. The men were killed last month after the son and his wife apparently surprised a burglar when they returned home. The son was tied up and shot to death in the home and the father, who resided in the neighborhood, was shot outside the house as the burglar fled.

The younger Youngpeter's wife also was wounded by the gunman.

Scores of law enforcement officers combed woods and fields surrounding Delphos for 24 hours following the shootings, but failed to apprehend the killer.

Reinecke won't resign

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke announced after a meeting with Gov. Ronald Reagan that he still has no intention of resigning until his formal sentencing on a perjury charge.

Reinecke, 50, said he explained his position in the 27-minute session on Monday and that Reagan "was delighted at the answers and wished me well."

Reinecke said Reagan "felt that he was perhaps misunderstood" in his comment last Friday that it would be in the best interests of the state if Reinecke quit now.

Reinecke is to be sentenced Aug. 30 in Washington. He was found guilty July 27 of lying to the Senate Judiciary Committee in July 1972 about when he told then Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell about an ITT offer to underwrite the GOP national convention in San Diego.

Solon upset with Gilligan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— State Sen. Paul R. Matia, R-25 Westlake, is miffed because Gov. John J. Gilligan didn't invite him to the signing of the landlord-tenant bill Monday.

Matia put out a news release Tuesday accusing the governor of "inexcusable rudeness" for the fact he didn't get an invitation.

The signing took place at the Columbus district office of Rep. Michael P. Stinziano, D-30 Columbus, who sponsored the bill in the House. Matia carried it in the Senate.

"This bill was the product of much hard work by members of the Senate and the House," Matia said, "and I think they should have all shared the credit."

"This kind of rudeness is exactly why the governor has such poor relations with the legislature—even with members of his own party," Matia said.

Matia said Gilligan's desire to see Democrats control the Senate next year "overcame any sense of decency and fairness the governor might normally have."

3 ♠ 3 NT 4 ♠ Pass

Opening lead — ace of clubs.

Occasionally, in a competitive hand, the bidding is exceptionally illuminating and a player has at his command all the facts necessary to produce a killing defense.

Consider this deal where South got to four spades doubled. West started off on the right foot when he led the ace and another club, hoping to achieve a club ruff.

Declarer won in dummy with the queen and played a trump to the king, losing to the ace. West knew from the bidding that his partner had the king of diamonds, so he underled the ace, expecting to gain the club ruff he was angling for.

But declarer trumped the diamond, cashed the queen of trumps, led a heart to the ten, losing to the king, and soon after took another heart finesse to make exactly four for a score of 790 points.

West slipped when he underled the ace of diamonds. His general plan was good — but it wasn't good enough. He should have realized that East needed both red kings for his two notrump bid, and that this in turn meant that South had opened the bidding and had bid again in the three level with either 9 or 10 points.

This strongly suggested distributional values—and especially a void in diamonds.

Upon winning the king of trumps with the ace at trick three, West should have returned a low heart!

This would have fixed South's wagon beyond repair. If declarer finessed, East would take the king and return a club to put the contract down one, while if declarer went up with the ace he would later lose two heart tricks to arrive at the same dead end.

Marijuana and Emphysema

I've never seen an answer to this question. Can smoking marijuana cause emphysema of the lungs, just as tobacco can?

Mr. B.L., Ind.

Dear Mr. L.: I have been flooded in recent years with requests to write more and more about marijuana.

The mass epidemic of its use has understandably introduced fears in parents. I have also had many letters from teenagers and young adults who are concerned because their parents smoke marijuana.

In a recent column I stated that many hidden dangers are unfolding about this so-called "harmless weed."

Emphysema, a desperately crippling disease of the lungs, is attributed mostly to cigarette smoking. It occurs in middle and late life and is a pathetic waste of the joys of living. Emphysema, in many instances, is preventable.

Doctors are seeing many more cases of emphysema in the young because of the deep inhaling associated with marijuana smoking. To obtain the full impact of the effect of marijuana, many smokers deeply fill their lungs and hold the smoke inside as long as possible.

The result is that emphysema, with its devastating effect, is being seen more and more among these smokers.

Emphysema is only one of the tragedies that can result from long-term smoking of marijuana. The scientific literature is revealing more and more reasons why legislative control is imperative to halt the use of marijuana.

How does a simple fracture differ from a compound fracture? Is one more difficult to heal than the other?

Mr. G.B., Ohio

Dear Mr. B.: The descriptive word "simple" does not mean the fracture is not serious.

It means that the bone has been broken without injury to the skin surrounding it.

A compound fracture is one in which fragments of the bone have torn through the muscles and the skin and exposed the injured tissue to infection.

Both a simple and a compound fracture may be minor or very severe, depending on the particular bone that is broken and the injury to the surrounding tissue.

Coal firms, miners eye new contracts

CENTRALIA, Ill. (AP) — Coal companies and miners will begin new contract negotiations some time this month, with each side hoping to sidestep a nationwide strike like the one that shackled the industry three years ago.

"A lot of people have said that it's all but inevitable that we'll have a strike," Phillip Sparks, a spokesman for the 120,000-member United Mine Workers, says.

"But I think it's still too early to tell. Our opinion all along has been that the questions aren't going to be ones that can't be solved if both sides bargain in good faith."

But some UMW officials have already accused the companies of foot dragging. They say the issues are so numerous and complex the talks should already be under way if a pact is to be agreed upon by the time the current contract expires Nov. 12. No date for the first session has been set.

Approved in 1971 during wage and price controls, the current contract is a source of bitter frustration for the miners. It provided pay hikes of $3 a day for the first year and $2 in each of the next two years.

But last year inflation increased by 8.8 per cent and the $2 hike of 1974 amounted only to a raise of only 8.2 per cent. So, by the union's reasoning, the miners actually took a .6 per cent cut. Meanwhile they've watched with envy the signing of attractive pacts by auto and steel workers.

The last time the miners went to the mat there was a 44-day strike that idled 100,000 miners in 25 states. The walkout caused railroad layoffs and a coal shortage in the utility industry. When it was over, the miners had a contract that boosted top wage scales from $37 to $50 per day and doubled the 40 cents per ton royalty paid by the companies to the miners' retirement and medical fund.

The miners say their priorities for the new contract are:

—A pay hike. Some miners are talking about a top of $72 a day.

—A cost of living escalator pegged to the rate of inflation. It would be the first such escalator in UMW history.

—Sick leave. Miners are now entitled to none.

—A substantial increase in the 80 cents per ton royalty to finance dental and eye care plus pension improvements.

Mine owners, represented in the bargaining by the Bituminous Coal Operators Association, declined comment on contract items.

"It would appear that we are negotiating in the newspapers," explained Bob Vines, a spokesman for the operators.

But in other forums the coal companies are talking of hard times when strict new federal air pollution guidelines, and land reclamation standards for strip mining become effective.

The industry says one-third of the nation's air quality will be unusable with next year's air quality regulations.

Two youths arrested on shoplift charges

Two Washington C.H. youths were charged with petty theft for shoplifting at Buckeye Mart, 100 Washington Square, at 4:45 p.m. Tuesday, Washington C.H. police officers reported.

The boys were apprehended by store security personnel when they allegedly attempted to leave with eight spark plugs valued at $7.97, concealed on their person.

City police also reported an overdose, an injury due to fighting and a larceny. The Fayette County Sheriff's Department reported an injury and two incidents of vandalism.

A 16-year-old Sabina girl was treated at Fayette Memorial Hospital for taking an overdose of pills at her home at 1:30 a.m. Wednesday. She was released after treatment.

Ray Dulton, 30, Leesburg, sustained a lacerated right eyeball in a fight at the Emerald Inn, S. Fayette St., at 1:45 a.m. Wednesday, police reported. He was treated and released at Fayette Memorial Hospital.

A motorcycle helmet owned by Fred Allen Jr., 621 Oak Circle, was taken from his residence sometime between 9:45 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. Tuesday, police reported.

The helmet, valued at $35, was taken off his motorcycle which was parked in his driveway.

Mike Smith, 15, of 4461 U.S. 62-SW, fractured his left collarbone when he flipped over the tri-sport, three-wheeled bike he was riding at his residence at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, the Fayette County Sheriff's Department reported.

A mailbox owned by Walter Crawford, Mount Sterling, was damaged by vandals who threw a pop bottle at it. Sheriff's deputies reported the incident Tuesday.

A wire pasture fence, used to keep cattle confined, owned by Phillip Crago, Bloomingburg, was damaged with wire cutters sometime during the last two weeks. Sheriff's deputies are investigating the vandalism incident.

Tank car explosion kills two

WENATCHEE, Wash. (AP) — A railroad tank car apparently carrying volatile ammonium nitrate exploded in a mighty blast which shot autosized chunks of debris through the air, killing two persons.

Sixty-six others were injured in the explosion on Tuesday, six of them seriously, authorities said.

The blast touched off fires and flattened at least 12 nearby homes. Several other homes within a mile of the explosion were damaged in the blast near a Burlington Northern Railroad switching station about three miles from the downtown area of this central Washington community of 17,000. The town calls itself the Apple Capital of the World.

Several box cars were destroyed, and power and telephone service were knocked out.

"Thank God it happened during the noon hour or more persons would have been hurt," said Wenatchee Fire Chief Glen Harris.

Authorities said one of the dead was David M. Jones, a railroad switchman. The second was an unidentified transient.

Fire authorities said they had not determined the cause of the explosion. Harris said ammonium nitrate, used in making fertilizer, normally requires an extremely high temperature to ignite.

A Burlington Northern official said damage would be in the millions of dollars, but no official estimate was available.

Pair charged in theft of copper wire

Two 19-year-old Fayette County men have been arrested and charged by the Fayette County Sheriff's Department with the theft of 185 pounds of copper wire which was cut down from the Chessie system railroad telegraph poles in the Milledgeville and Octa areas of Jasper Township during the past week.

Sheriff Don Thompson said theft charges have been lodged against James J. Cooper, Rt. 3, and Emmitt R. Mowen, Jeffersonville. Cooper had been charged earlier in the spring in connection with another incident of copper wire theft in the same area and both men are presently incarcerated in the Fayette County jail in lieu of $1,000 bond each.

Through an investigation conducted by Sheriff Thompson and Sgt. William Crooks, all of the stolen wire has been recovered.

Measuring about half the diameter of earth, Mars has a surface gravity just .38 of that on earth. Thus, a 150-pound man would weigh only 57 pounds on Mars and would be able to lift more than twice the weight he could lift on earth.
